Spring 2002

HPER Alumni News:

Once again, we are proud to mention our many HPER graduates that are working in their fields, attending graduate school and/or applying to graduate programs. Congratulations to the following:

Roland Whiting (HPE '00) is currently a Behavior Consultant for Children's Services in Philadelphia working with behavior disorders in children ages 7-16. He is also a part-time Strength/Conditioning Coach working with college professors and professional athletes. In addition, Andre is the Assistant Track Coach at Widener University.

Steven Conrad (HPE '97) is in his third year of teaching 9th and 10th grade Health, PE and Strength Training at the Coatesville Area Senior High School. He will receive his Masters Degree this May in Instructional Leadership.

Jamaal Daffin (HS '01) is currently applying to graduate schools to pursue a masters in the Health Sciences field.

Qiana Joyner (TR '00) is applying to Philadelphia University's Occupational Therapy program. She is a Recreation Therapist at Mercy Hospital.

May I Have This Dance?

Dr. Wagner's Ballroom Dance class is in full "Swing" again. Besides the Swing, students are also learning and demonstrating the basic steps of the Fox Trot, Waltz, Cha-Cha and Polka...and having lots of fun, too.

Dr. Wagner is teaching two sections of Ballroom Dance this semester: 8 AM and 9:30 AM. The students are enjoying the class as attested by the broad grins and happy feet!

Jenelle Bryant (HS '01) attended a training session with the Baltimore City Schools in July '01. She is planning to teach HPE to middle school students and pursue a masters in Health Education.

Kimberly Hill (HS '01) is working at her old internship site - Harlem Hospital.

Marc Holley (HS '01) is working with children.

Edwin Santana (HS '00) is applying to graduate school at Temple.

Michelle Patterson-Wilson (HS '90) is the Extended Day Coordinator at Raising Horizons Quest Charter School. She is applying to Temple University.

Racheal Cunningham (HS '99) is applying to graduate school at St. Joseph's University.

Lesley Mallory (HS '01) is applying to Temple University's Recreation Therapy program.

FOCUS onIsmael Rivera

Ismael Rivera ('02) Therapeutic Recreation

Birth Place: Miami, Florida

Interests: I enjoy playing basketball; reading autobiographies, biographies and poetry; and collecting portraits, African artifacts and art.

Campus Activities: I am the Vice President of the TR Club. I also work in the Library during the after hours sessions. I always participate in the intramural basketball tournaments. I recently participated in a fashion show for a sorority fund raiser.

Internship Site: Morningside House - Bronx, NY.
Alzheimer's Special Care Unit.

Plans after graduation: I am deciding on where to go to graduate school: Temple, Indiana University, Georgia or New York University. After my masters degree, I hope to continue my education by pursuing a doctorate in TR.

Why did you choose Therapeutic Recreation as a major?: My mother suffers from a muscular disease and I live in a community where there are a lot of elderly disabled people. I would like to work in an environment where I can help that particular population, i.e., geriatrics.

WHAT'S NEW IN THE DEPARTMENT?

The annual Health Fair is scheduled for March 28, 2002. As in the past, it will be held in conjunction with the Career Fair. Several students from various HPR classes will be assisting Ms. Linda Racine and other nurses with blood pressure checks, etc. Hope to see you there!

FACULTY UPDATE

Dr. DeBoy and Dr. Wagner will be presenting a paper entitled "Assessment of Student Learning in Health Science: Assuring Actual Outcomes Coincide with Desired Outcomes" at the Wellness 2002 Conference in Myrtle Beach, SC in March.

Dr. DeBoy presented a mini-version of the above paper (as part of the Brown Bag Lecture Series) to the School of Social Sciences and Behavioral Studies in January. He was also asked to give this presentation to the School of Humanities, the School of Natural Sciences and Mathematics and the Masters of Human Services Faculty during the months of January and February.

Dr. Sally Wagner attended the Pennsylvania State Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (PSAHPERD) 80th Annual Conference at the Seven Springs Mountain Resort in November-December, 2001.

Dr. Kinney is planning to take the TR Majors to the Pennsylvania Park and Recreation Society (PRPS) State Conference in March.

Dr. Kinney's HPR 408: Research & Evaluation class is busy working on a new and improved Alumni Survey.

HPER Off-Campus Class Field Visits 2001-02:

- ❖ Dr. Wagner's HPR 311: Methods of Teaching HPE class will be visiting the Oxford School District, both the elementary and high schools, to observe classroom teachers.
- ❖ Dr. Kinney's HPR 400: TR for Selected Populations class will be visiting the Kennett Senior Center later this semester. Students in this class are also doing 10 hours of volunteer work at various agencies.
