Visual and Performing Arts – Assistant Professor of Piano and Piano Accompanist

Applications are being invited for a full time tenure-track position as Piano Instructor and Piano Accompanist in the Department of Visual and Performing Arts. This is a full-time position that begins in August 2013.

The Department seeks a dynamic individual who is qualified to teach individual and group lessons in piano. This individual will also accompany solo performers, the Concert Choir and the Opera Workshop. Ability as a proficient organist will be considered a plus. Other assignments may include rudiments of music or music appreciation.

Requirements of this position include a terminal degree in music (DMA, EdD or PhD with an emphasis in piano and piano performance preferred) and successful teaching experience.

The following materials constitute a complete application packet: (1) letter of application which discusses the candidate’s qualifications and particular suitability for the position; (2) a detailed and updated curriculum vitae; (3) three current professional letters of reference; and (4) both undergraduate and graduate transcripts (unofficial copies are acceptable at this time).
