Chemistry – Organic Chemist
The Department of Chemistry at Lincoln University invites applications for a full-time tenure track position in Organic Chemistry at the Assistant Professor level. Candidates must possess a Ph.D. by the hire date. The department offers Bachelor’s degrees in Chemistry and Biochemistry & Molecular Biology. The department has been successful in preparing its students for graduate and professional school and is seeking an individual who is committed to this effort.

Qualifications:
- A Ph.D. in Organic Chemistry (completed by the time of hire).
- Ability to teach Organic chemistry.
- Commitment to teaching excellence at the undergraduate level.
- Ability to establish a funded research program.
- Evidence of experience in modern instrumentation used in Organic Chemistry.
- Effective oral and written communication skills.
- Evidence of experience teaching courses in Organic and general chemistry and associated lab courses.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities:
- Teaching duties include lower and upper level chemistry courses, including general chemistry, the two-semester Organic chemistry course with lab, and upper level courses in the applicant’s area of expertise.
- The ability to teach lecture and laboratory courses for health professionals and other non-science majors is desirable.
- Other responsibilities include maintaining currency in one’s area of expertise.
- Establishing an active, externally-funded research program involving undergraduates and service to the department and the university.

Application Procedures:
For full consideration, qualified applicants must submit application materials by March 1, 2013. The application should include:

(1) A letter of application.
(2) A current curriculum vita.
(3) Undergraduate and graduate transcripts (unofficial copies will suffice for initial screening).
(4) A statement of teaching philosophy.
(5) A research statement.
(6) Three current and relevant letters of recommendation.
All information should be forwarded to: Office of Human Resources, Lincoln University, 1570 Baltimore Pike, PO Box 179, Lincoln University, PA 19352. Electronic applications and/or questions may be sent to email hr@lincoln.edu.

Working Conditions:
Work is primarily performed in a university campus environment and requires a flexible schedule. The employee is subject to inside environmental conditions and protection from weather conditions.