

FINANCES AND STUDENT FINANCIAL AID

Offices, Financial Clearances, and Responsibility

The Office of the Bursar is the administrative unit of Lincoln University that is responsible for student accounts, including charging all tuition and fees, receipt of payments (including monies transferred on the behalf of students from banks and governmental agencies) and authorizing payments and refunds to students.

The Office of the Bursar is located at the northwest entrance of Vail Hall. Correspondence should be addressed to: Office of the Bursar, Lincoln University, P.O. Box 179, MSC 190, Lincoln University, PA 19352. The telephone numbers are (610) 932-8300 ext. 3411, 3106, or 3415; (800) 561-5710; and the fax number is (610) 932-1230.

The Office of Financial Aid helps students meet their obligations to the University by determining the students' eligibility for financial assistance from (1) government programs and (2) the borrowing of funds from banks and other financial institutions under the regulations of the U.S. Department of Education. The Office of Financial Aid makes its official determinations of eligibility in the form of "Award Letters."

The Office of Financial Aid is located on the first floor of Lincoln Hall. Correspondence should be addressed to: Office of Financial Aid, Lincoln University, P.O. Box 179, Lincoln University, PA 19352. The telephone numbers are (610) 932-8300 ext. 6010, (800) 561-2606, and the fax number is (610) 932-1298.

The Office of the Bursar determines when a student is "financially cleared" and is therefore eligible for enrollment in classes and living in the residence halls. Financial clearance can be granted by the Bursar based on the actual receipt of funds, evidence of payment plans arranged through tuition payment plans (TMS and AMS, described later in this section), and an award letter issued by Financial Aid. The Bursar can change a student's status from cleared to not cleared at any time if there are changes in the student's award letter or external payment plans. The Bursar determines financial clearance based on the current status of an account, including all payments and charges – not just the payments and charges for the current term.

The student always has ultimate responsibility for payment of all financial obligations to the University.

Lincoln University will issue transcripts or diplomas only when the student is "financially cleared" by the Office of the Bursar.

Registration for any semester, including room reservation, is conditioned upon satisfactory settlement of all financial obligations of any previous semester, in addition to charges for the new semester.

While it is recognized that in most instances parents are responsible for paying some or all of the educational expenses, it is nevertheless expected that all students keep themselves effectively informed regarding their financial obligations to the university and the way in which they are being met. Bills are sent to students and parents.

Payment Of School Expenses

On or about July 1st and November 25th a bill will be forwarded to your attention indicating the net charge, which must be paid by the following dates to be eligible for registration.

Fall Semester	Total payment or arrangement prior to August 7
Spring Semester	Total payment or arrangement prior to December 31

The net charge payable is the total estimated expenses less University Financial Aid and payments made to date. An itemized statement of actual charges incurred for the Fall Semester will be sent in September and for the Spring Semester in February.

Remittances

All remittances should be made payable to “Lincoln University” and addressed to Office of the Bursar, P.O. Box 179, MSC 190, Lincoln University, PA 19352.

Personal checks will not be accepted in payment of school expenses. Cash, certified or cashier’s checks, and money orders are acceptable. The Office of the Bursar can provide instructions for money transfers from domestic or international banks.

Credit cards (only Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express) are accepted only if the cardholder is present or provides written and signed authorization for the charge along with the account number, expiration date, and amount to be charged. Thus, credit card charges cannot be transacted by telephone.

Debit cards, such as the Money Access Card (MAC), can be accepted provided that the cardholder is present and the amount debited does not exceed the amount being paid to the University.

Tuition Payment Plans (TMS and AMS)

Lincoln University students may take advantage of the payment plan services offered by Tuition Management Systems (TMS) (1-800-722-4867, <http://www.afford.com>) or Academic Management Services (AMS) (1-800-635-0120, <https://secure.tuitionpay.com>). TMS and AMS are private companies.

Both companies offer several alternatives to financing for students and parents. Their services include loans, lines of credit, credit life insurance, and a ten-month installment plan when the full academic year is budgeted. The only cost is an annual application fee.

Veterans (GI Bill) and Social Security Beneficiaries and Employer Payments

Students who receive benefits under programs of federal or state agencies, such as the Department of Veterans Affairs or the Social Security Administration must meet the payment deadlines of the University even if they have not yet received their benefits from the governmental agencies. In cases where an agency can or will make payment directly to the University, the Bursar may defer receipt of the funds upon presentation of acceptable evidence from the agency.

Similarly, if some or all of a student's education expenses are to be paid directly to the University by his or her employer, the Bursar may defer receipt of the funds upon presentation of acceptable commitment from the employer. The University cannot defer such payments if it is contingent upon achievement of a certain grade. The University also cannot defer receipt of payment based on an employer's future reimbursement to the student of his or her educational expenses – the student must satisfy obligations by the corresponding deadlines and seek reimbursement later.

All students are required to complete at least two natural science courses that include laboratories. The lab fees for these and fee for the physical education course are included in the example above for first time students since these courses are commonly taken in the first year.

The number of times special course fees will be needed will depend on a student's major and whether or not they study foreign languages.

- Biology, Chemistry, and Physics majors can expect to have one or more laboratory fee charges each semester during every semester.
- Music majors can expect to pay $50 fees for every private lesson and ensemble course and every piano instruction class.
- Art majors can expect to pay $34 fees for every studio art course.
- Students taking foreign languages, including students in the Honors Program, will pay $63 fees for every foreign language course.

Students who do not provide evidence of medical insurance coverage will be required to pay the premium (currently $208) for medical insurance available through the University.

Refund Policies

Upon the withdrawal of a student for reasons other than disciplinary, a portion of the tuition may be refunded based on the official date of withdrawal. Fees are not refundable.

If the date of withdrawal is:	Tuition Refund
Between one and two weeks	80%
Between two and three weeks	60%
Between three and four weeks	40%
Between four and five weeks	20%
Over five weeks	0%

A proportionate refund for board will be made upon official withdrawal from the University. Charges for board may also be reduced in case a student is absent for a period of six weeks or more provided that acceptable evidence of the absence has been given to the Office of Student Affairs and Enrollment Management.

No refunds will be made for room, general fees, orientation, matriculation, laboratory, physical education, music fees, insurance or other miscellaneous fees after a student has registered – even when the student withdraws from a course.

Student Financial Aid

The Office of Financial Aid assists students in obtaining the financial resources they need to meet their obligations to the University. The Financial Aid Counselors work to develop a “package” of resources by combining grants, scholarships, loans, and on-campus jobs. Grants are provided by both federal and state governmental agencies. Loans may be “subsidized” when a governmental agency ends up paying a portion of the interest on the loan. The interest on unsubsidized loans is paid entirely by the borrower. In most types of loans, repayments begin only after the student is no longer enrolled at least halftime in a post-secondary institution. On-campus jobs include “work-study” that is funded by governmental sources and “work-aid” that is funded by the University’s own budget. The terms and conditions may be different for each type of aid – students should make sure they understand the rules for every type of aid they receive.

Eligibility for all forms of financial aid, including work-aid jobs and most University funded scholarships, requires the completion of a “Free Application for Federal Student Aid” (FAFSA). Some type of aid may also require the submission of documents, such as income tax returns of the student or parents, in order to provide evidence of eligibility. We encourage students to file on-line at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Forms may be obtained from the guidance office of secondary schools, Lincoln University’s Offices of Financial Aid and Admissions. These forms may require six weeks processing time to be returned to Lincoln by the Processing centers.

All FAFSA applications should be filed by April 15th for the subsequent academic year in order to get the most of the preferred types of aid since some funds are allocated to students beginning in April. A student whose FAFSA is filed late or whose supporting documents are not received in a timely fashion may receive less aid in the form of grants and therefore have to take more in the form of loans that must be repaid by the student.

Financial aid may be denied to any student, or subject to revocation by the Agency, if it is reported that a student has been expelled, dismissed or denied enrollment for failure to obey any lawful regulation, University rule, or order. Any student who is convicted by any court of record of a criminal offense, which constitutes a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, a felony, or drug offense, may likewise be denied financial aid. Please consult your financial aid advisor for further information.

The services of the College Scholarship Service (CSS) and the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency (PHEAA) are used to assist in the determination of financial need.

Financial aid is awarded on an annual basis and is renewable from year to year as long as the student maintains satisfactory academic progress (see p. 66) and meets all other requirements. The following is a brief list and description of the financial assistance programs offered at the University:

Federal Pell Grants

Federal Pell Grants are available to undergraduate students only. Grants do not have to be repaid. For the 2003-2004 school year, Federal Pell Grant awards ranged from $400 to $4,050. The actual award will depend not only on the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) but also on the cost of attendance, and enrollment status (full-time/part-time).

Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG)

SEOG grants are provided for undergraduate students who demonstrate financial need and are deemed eligible to receive a PELL Grant. The awards are based on the availability of SEOG funding for the academic year and the amount of other assistance a student may be entitled to receive. These grants do not have to be repaid.

Perkins Loan Program

The Perkins Loan program is administered by the Financial Aid Office. To be considered for this type of loan, a student must demonstrate financial need. Loans are limited to the University's current level of funding. The interest rate is currently 5% and begins to accrue when repayment commences nine months after the student graduates, leaves school, or drops below half-time enrollment. Repayment may be extended over a period of 10 years.

FWSP then Stafford Loans

Students may borrow Stafford Loans from a bank, savings and loan association, or credit union. The amounts that students may borrow depend on their grade level (class) and whether they are undergraduate or graduate students. The interest rate is variable, but never exceeds 8.25 percent.

Federal Work Study Program (FWSP)

Student employment is provided on campus and off campus through the Federal Work Study and University Work-Aid programs. International students are eligible for University (campus) Work-Aid only. Students with a satisfactory academic average and/or demonstrated need are eligible for a wide variety of part-time jobs in various departments throughout the campus. Students are eligible to work only after they have registered and have completed the necessary documents required by the Financial Aid Office.

Students wishing information regarding application procedures, conditions of employment, job-performance reviews, grievance procedures, wage scale, and payroll schedules should contact the Financial Aid Office, located in room 103, Lincoln Hall.

Federal PLUS Loans

PLUS Loans are federal loans made to parents and the school on behalf of their son/daughter. This is used to assist with educational expenses.

Unsubsidized Stafford Loans

If you are deemed an independent student or your parents are denied the PLUS Loan then you are eligible to borrow additional “un-subsidized” Federal Stafford Loan funds.

State Aid

Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency (PHEAA) of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania makes grants available to Pennsylvania residents who are at least part-time undergraduate students and who demonstrate need. The awards are based on the criteria set by PHEAA. All Pennsylvania residents are urged to take advantage of this grant program by completing the FAFSA application as soon as possible after January 1 of each year and before the May 1st, the PHEAA State grant deadline date. Other criteria used for continually receiving this grant is that the student is making Satisfactory Academic Progress by earning 24 credits by the end of each academic year (See p. 66).

Residents of Connecticut, Delaware, the District of Columbia, Massachusetts, Ohio, Maine, Maryland, Rhode Island, and West Virginia are urged to apply for the grant assistance offered by their state. The FAFSA must be filed and you must provide authorization for release of information to the state.

Institutional Aid (Aid provided by Lincoln University)

Merit Based Aid

The Admissions Office will use its discretion when awarding merit-based scholarships if the student comes slightly below one of the two scholarship requirements (SAT or G.P.A.). These students may have also taken Advanced Placement (AP) and Honors (H) courses, etc.
