

Faculty Bio

Name: Olamide Timothy Tawose

---

Position: Assistant Professor

Department of: Computer Science

Bio: Olamide Timothy Tawose is a tenure-track assistant professor at the Department of Computer Science, Lincoln University, Pennsylvania. He received his BS degree in computer science from Ekiti State University, Nigeria, in 2014, MS degree in big data science and technology from the University of Bradford, United Kingdom, in 2017 and PhD in Computer Science and Engineering from the University of Nevada, Reno in 2023. His current research interests lie in high-performance distributed computing, databases, artificial intelligence and applied cryptography. His work has been presented at conferences like SIGMOD, IPDPS and AAAI, where he actively engages in scientific discourse. Besides impact through scientific publications, he is passionate about bridging the DEI gap through mentoring aimed at inspiring young students from underrepresented backgrounds and encouraging their interest in the field of computer science. He also serves as a reviewer for conferences and journals like SIGMOD, IEEE Access, IJCIS, MDPI. He has been nominated or received awards like the Federal Government of Nigeria Postgraduate Scholarship Overseas, UNR Graduate Dean's Fellowship, GSA Outstanding Graduate Teaching Award.

Educational Background: Ph.D. in Computer Science and Engineering. University of Nevada, Reno, USA
M.Sc. in Big Data Science and Technology (Distinction). University of Bradford, United Kingdom.
B.Sc. in Computer Science (First Class). Ekiti State University, Ekiti State, Nigeria.

Classes Taught: CSC-355 (Operating Systems)
CSC-151 (Computer Applications)

Research Interest: High-Performance Distributed Computing, Databases, Artificial Intelligence and Applied Cryptography

Email: otawose@lincoln.edu