General Information.

Every applicant for admission must present evidence of good moral character; and if from any other Institution, a certificate of honorable admission from the proper authorities.

All students in the University are required to attend daily prayers, religious services on the Lord's day, and such exercises of instruction and recitation as may be assigned to them.

Students regularly advanced with their classes in the courses of study are required to return promptly to the University at the opening of the session.

The expenses of a student in Lincoln University need not exceed $150 a year. An exact estimate of the personal expenses of a student, above what is included in the session bills, cannot be made.

Many benevolent friends of education are co-operating with the Trustees and Faculty in providing aid for those who need it. Careful discrimination is exercised in directing this aid to individuals, so as not to weaken the sense of personal responsibility and self-reliance. Those who can pay their own bills have only to comply with the regulations for admission, and they will be admitted to the standing in the classes for which their previous training has fitted them; but no earnest young man of good abilities and good moral character should be discouraged from seeking the advantages which are here offered. All who need aid should apply for admission to the President, or to some member of the Faculty, and state in their application their purpose in seeking an education, what progress they have made in study, and what part of the expenses they can meet.

The students board in clubs conducted by one of their number, or in boarding houses adjacent to the University. The cost of board cannot be fixed at an unvarying rate from year to year. During the current year board and washing have been furnished for $9.00 per month.

Devotional exercises, consisting of reading the Scriptures, singing and prayer, are held with the students in the chapel every morning and evening.

There is a service of preaching in the chapel every Sabbath, at 11 o'clock A. M. The clerical Professors conduct this service. An exercise in the exposition of the Scriptures is held every Sabbath at 3.30 P. M.

A course of instruction, designed to promote their knowledge of the Bible, is given to the students by one of the Professors on Sabbath evenings.

A voluntary prayer meeting is held by the students every evening except Friday.

The library contains about 5,500 volumes, and is open daily except Saturdays and Sundays.

A reading room adjoining the library is supplied with a number of daily and weekly papers, and monthly and quarterly reviews.

The library has recently received valuable additions from the daughter of the late Rev. Aaron Williams, D.D.; Rev. Henry F. Lee; Rev. J. Hubbard of Adrian, Michigan; Roger Owen D.D. of Chestnut Hill, Pa.; Mrs. Dr. Joseph Fithian of Woodbury, N. J., and Mr. John Sibley of Philadelphia, Pa.

The reading room owes its efficiency largely to a generous donation from George S. Billmyer, Esq., of York, Pa.

REGULATIONS.

The course of study in the Collegiate Department occupies four years.

Applicants for the Freshman Class must be at least fifteen years of age. They will be examined in the following subjects:

ENGLISH.—English Grammar, Orthography, Punctuation, Composition of simple sentences, Geography, History of the United States.

MATHEMATICS.—Arithmetic.

LATIN.—Latin Grammar.

GREEK.—Greek Grammar.

Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies previously pursued by the class which they propose to enter.

The Academical year is divided into two sessions. At the end of the first session public examinations of all the classes are held. The name of a student failing at the end of a session to pass any examination assigned to his class, will not be entered on the class-roll at the beginning of the next session, until he shall have passed all the required examinations. Students not returning promptly at the commencement of a session will not be admitted to class privileges until they shall have been examined in the studies pursued by their class in their absence.

At the close of each Academical year the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior Classes are examined, both orally and in writing, in the studies of that year.

The final examination of the Sophomore class includes the studies of the Freshman year as well as those of the current year. Members of the Sophomore class found deficient in general scholarship at this examination will not be advanced to the Junior Class in full standing, and will not be entitled to the degree of A. B. at the close of the course.

The rank of a student in his class depends on his grade in his recitations and examinations; on his punctuality and constancy in attendance upon all exercises of instruction; and on his deportment in all his relations as a student.

At the close of the Senior year the members of the Senior Class are examined in the studies of the whole course.

In determining the final rank of a senior his grade in the final senior examination is combined with the final grades of the previous collegiate years.

COMMENCEMENT.

The Annual Commencement takes place on the first Tuesday in June.

The Baccalaureate Sermon is addressed to the graduating class on the Sabbath preceding Commencement.

On Commencement day the members of the Senior Class, to whom orations are assigned, speak in the order of their rank, except that the valedictorian, who is chosen from the highest third of the class, arranged according to the rank of the members, delivers the closing address.

Special honorary orations are assigned, at the discretion of the Faculty, to members of the Senior class who may have excelled in particular branches of study.

Students who complete the whole course of collegiate study satisfactorily to the Faculty and Board of Trustees, will receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The Master's oration is delivered before the assembly on Commencement day.

The degree of Master of Arts will not be conferred hereafter, except on application of the candidate, and on satisfactory evidence that he has been engaged in literary or professional pursuits for at least three years subsequent to graduation.

All degrees authorized by the Board of Trustees are announced by the Secretary of the Board, and conferred by the President of the University, during the progress of the Commencement exercises.

The collegiate year closes with the exercises on Commencement day, and is followed by the summer vacation.

REGULATIONS.

The Preparatory Department is designed to prepare the students to enter upon the studies of the Freshman year. They are advanced as fast as their success in study will permit. The study of Latin and Greek is commenced in the last year of the Preparatory course. Proficiency in the studies of this department will fit the student to teach in the common schools of Pennsylvania.

It is urgently recommended that all persons desiring to enter the Preparatory Department should be previously trained in the common branches of an English education, so that they may complete their preparation for the Freshman Class in one year. In order to do this the applicant should be able to read and write well, and be familiar with the elementary processes of arithmetic. Students in this department participate in the general advantages of the students in the Collegiate Department, and are under the government and protection of the Faculty of Arts.

Application for admission may be made to the President of the University, to the Principal of the Department, or to any of the Professors in the Collegiate Department.

REGULATIONS.

The course of study in the Theological Department occupies three years.

Applicants for admission to the privileges of the Theological Department must present evidences of membership in good standing in some Evangelical church.

Students who complete the full course of Theological study, to the satisfaction of the Faculty and the Board of Trustees, will receive the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Theology.

No person not a graduate of the Collegiate Department of Lincoln University, or of some other Collegiate Institution, will be admitted to this department as a candidate for the degree of S. T. B., unless he pass a satisfactory examination. But applicants, who have not pursued a course of classical training, may, at the discretion of the Faculty, be admitted to particular classes, or to a special course of instruction. Such students, on leaving the University, will be entitled to certificates in evidence of their attendance on instruction, and of the time spent in study.

The Academical year is divided into two sessions. At the close of the second session the students are examined on the studies of the current year.

COMMENCEMENT.

The Annual Commencement takes place on the third Tuesday in April.

On the Sabbath preceding Commencement a special sermon is preached to the theological students.

On the day of Commencement the candidates for the degree of S. T. B. will deliver addresses, at the discretion of the Faculty of Theology. Exercises of public speaking may also be assigned to students not taking this degree. After the exercises of public speaking the President of the University will confer the degrees which have been authorized by the Board of Trustees.

The Theological year closes with the exercises of Commencement day.

THE ENGLISH COURSE.

In the year 1876 the Board of Trustees of Lincoln University addressed the following memorial and overture to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church :

“The Board of Trustees of Lincoln University, deeply interested in the condition of the Freedmen, and convinced that their continued destitution of an authorized educated ministry is a reproach to the Church and a source of danger to the country, respectfully urge the General Assembly to devise and adopt some practical plan to supply this want ; and overture the Assembly to consider and act upon the following propositions :

“First. Resolved, that this Assembly recognize it as the imperative duty of the Church to send the Gospel to the Freedmen without delay.

“Second. That while in the considerate judgment of this Assembly the regulations embodied in the fourteenth chapter of the Form of Government respecting the trial of candidates for licensure are an authoritative guide to Presbyteries in determining their qualifications, they do not supercede the discretion of the Presbyteries in the responsibility of committing the ministry of the word to faithful men.

“Third. That all Presbyteries providentially brought into relations with the Freedmen be hereby advised to license all colored men of whose call to preach the Gospel they may be satisfied, and whose training and abilities they may deem sufficient to qualify them for this sacred work.

“Fourth. That the Board of education be instructed to assume in behalf of the Church the pecuniary responsibility of educating in a thorough course of Theological studies in the English language all colored candidates for the ministry recommended to their care by the Presbyteries.”

To this memorial and overture the Assembly returned the following answer :

“ First. The Assembly has no authority to modify the regulations of our form of government in respect to the qualifications of licentiates, so as to make provision for any class of exceptional cases. At the same time the Assembly recognizes the propriety of the exercise, by Presbyteries, of a wise discretion in their administration of the functions intrusted to them by the Church, in view of the great work to be done by our Church among the colored people in this country. The Assembly specially accords such discretion to those Presbyteries, which are Providentially brought into special relations to that work ; meanwhile, in view of the experience of several years, enjoining upon such Presbyteries the obligation to take great care lest incompetent or unworthy men be admitted into the ministry of our Church.

“ Second. This General Assembly does not deem it wise to modify the existing rules governing the Board of Education in the aiding of candidates for the ministry in our Church. The Assembly, however, earnestly commends the exceptional cases referred to in the overture, to the sympathy and charity of the Churches, and trust that the friends of our work among the Freedmen will suffer no worthy young man, devoting himself to that work, to fail for lack of pecuniary aid.”

Minutes of the General Assembly, 1876.

This answer of the General Assembly virtually affirms the first proposition that it is the duty of the Church to send the Gospel to the Freedmen without delay. The Assembly specially accords to particular Presbyteries discretion in licensing, as preachers of the Gospel, candidates who have been exercised in a thorough course of Theological studies in the English language, according to the second and third propositions. And although the Assembly did not instruct the Board of Education to adopt a wider policy in supporting colored candidates for the ministry, its past policy, which has been liberal, was not restricted. The education of colored men in a thorough course of Theological studies in the English language was commended by the Assembly to the sympathies and charity of the Churches and friends of our work among the Freedmen.

It is the desire of the Faculty of Theology in Lincoln University to give greater prominence to this aspect of their work, and the co-operation of Presbyteries and contributors is earnestly invited.

ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS.

By the Charter of Lincoln University the Theological Department is placed under the care of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, in conformity with the general plan adopted for the supervision of Theological Seminaries. The General Assembly, which met in Chicago in May, 1871, accepted the oversight of the Theological Department of Lincoln University, as provided in the Charter, and approved the appointments and proceedings of the Board of Trustees, as reported at that time. The laws of Lincoln University require that any action of the Board of Trustees affecting the Theological Department shall be reported to the General Assembly by the Secretary of the Board. The Faculty of Theology is also required to prepare for the information of the General Assembly an annual report of their work in instruction, and of all matters of interest respecting the Theological Department.

THEOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

The Theological Society meets every Friday evening for literary and religious exercises, designed to promote preparation for Theological work.

General Statement.

Lincoln University is in Chester county, Pennsylvania, half a mile from Lincoln University Station, on the Philadelphia and Baltimore Central Railroad. The institution is in a healthy region, and is remote from associations which tend to prevent the formation of a high literary and moral character. The post office, where the resident Professors should be addressed, is

LINCOLN UNIVERSITY,
CHESTER COUNTY, PA.

The corporate title of this institution is "The Lincoln University." Bequests intended to promote the work of this University will be legally valid under that title.

The first charter of this institution was granted by the State of Pennsylvania, under the title of "Ashmun Institute," in the year 1854. In 1865 the title was changed by amendment of the Charter to "The Lincoln University." The Theological Department was placed under the care of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in 1871.

There are four University buildings for dormitories and purposes of instruction, and five residences for Professors.

UNIVERSITY HALL is built of serpentine stone, and contains the chapel and six recitation rooms. This Hall is one wing of a building which, when finished, will supply accommodations for the whole work of instruction.

CRESSON HALL contains dormitories for eighty students, and the Chemical Laboratory.

LINCOLN HALL contains dormitories for ninety-five students, the Society Halls, the Library, and the Janitor's Apartments.

ASHMUN HALL contains dormitories for thirty-two students.

There are six endowed Professorships in the University, and ten invested Scholarships:

- The Mary Warler Dickey Presidency.
- The Avery Professorship of Lincoln University.
- The John C. Baldwin Professorship of Theology.
- The William E. Dodge Professorship of Sacred Rhetoric.
- The J. H. Casseely Professorship of Latin.
- The Reuben J. Flicke Professorship.
- The John Dunlap Scholarship.
- The One Blood Scholarship.
- The Nelson Scholarship.
- The Clapp Scholarships, one and two.
- The Phelps Scholarship.
- The Westfield Scholarship.

The Henry A. Kerr Scholarship.
 A Friend's Scholarship.
 The Charles Jessup Scholarship.
 The Scholarship Fund.

Since the issue of the last catalogue more than $70,000 have been added to the permanent funds of the University.

By John H. Cassidy, Esq., of N. Y., to endow the Professorship of Latin, $20,000.

By Reuben J. Flick, Esq., of Pa., to endow a Professorship, $20,000.

By Henry H. Houston, Esq., of Pa., to erect a Dormitory, $10,000.

By Miss Susan Gorgas, of Pa., to erect a building for Commencement purposes, to be called Livingston Hall, $3,000.

By Hon. William E. Dodge, towards a new Professorship, $2,000.

By Mrs. Wm. E. Dodge, for same, $2,000.

By D. Willis James, Esq., for same, $2,000.

By Morris K. Jessup, Esq., to endow the Charles Jessup Scholarship, $2,000.

By members of the family, towards completing the Graves Professorship, $1,500.

By a friend to endow a Scholarship, $2,500.

By Mrs. Amelia Kerr, to endow the Henry A. Kerr Scholarship, $2,500.

A number of rooms have been conveniently and tastefully furnished for the students. Two by the ladies of the Coatesville Presbyterian Church, and one each by the ladies of the Presbyterian churches of Wayne, Downingtown, West Chester, New London, Westminster Phila. and Avondale, Pa.; Lower West Nottingham, Md.; and of Aurora, Batavia, Palmyra, and Seneca Castle, N. Y.

During the past year public meetings have been held in York, Harrisburg and West Chester, Pa.; in Baltimore, Md.; in Auburn, in Syracuse, at Clifton Springs, in Rochester, and in Buffalo, N. Y.; and in Elizabeth and Trenton, N. J. An effort has thus been made to acquaint the Christian public with the character and design of our work. The meetings have been addressed by our graduates, and in several instances the pulpits of prominent churches have been occupied by them on the Sabbath day. The effect of these meetings has been to encourage the friends of the Negro by the gratifying evidence of his ability to acquire thoroughly and to use wisely the higher education given in this institution, and to secure their cordial and intelligent approval of the educational work as here conducted. Benevolent and thoughtful men have said to us, "That is the right thing to do. Such men will be a blessing to their race and to the world. Enlarge your plans. The Church and country will sustain you." It is intended to visit other places during the next year upon the same mission. Pastors desiring to co-operate with us in this effort, and who will arrange for such meetings in their congregations, are invited to correspond with the President of the University in reference to the matter.

While the whole work of Lincoln University needs immediate and indefinite enlargement, the attention of the thoughtful is particularly invited to the following urgent wants :

To repair Ashmun Hall, $3,500

To build a residence for a Professor, $5,000.

To complete a Professorship partly endowed, $11,000.

To endow the chair of Natural Science, $20,000.

To endow the chair of Hebrew, $20,000.

To provide a fund for the care of the property of the University, and for the current expenses, $50,000.

To provide fifty perpetual Scholarships each to yield annually $130.

To furnish 18 rooms in Houston Hall, now in building, each $30.

Among the instrumentalities through which the friends of the Negro may convey to him the blessings of education, Lincoln University especially deserves the confidence of the Christian public. She was the first to enter this field, when there was no other to undertake the work. Lincoln University was chartered in 1854. She is still doing a large share of the higher work. It would require a small comparative addition to her funds to double her means of usefulness. Worthy applicants are knocking at our doors, eager for the benefits here afforded. Who will say to us, "Turn no worthy man away who desires an education for the sake of the good he can do with it?"

Between four and five hundred young men have been sent out from the Preparatory Department and from the lower classes of the Collegiate Department, many of whom are engaged in important positions as teachers in the Southern States.

One hundred and forty-seven have been graduated from the Collegiate Department, after a course of instruction extending through four and in many cases six years. Of these graduates more than one hundred are engaged in professional and educational labors in the Southern States.

One hundred of the students of Lincoln University have received license, or ordination as ministers in the several Evangelical Protestant denominations.

Seven of our students have gone to Africa as Missionaries of the cross. Six have laid down their lives in that work. Word has recently come to us of the death of the Rev. Kelly M. Kemp, who had just entered upon work at the Mendi Station, in Sierra Leone.

The University is consecrated to the glory of God and the good of man. It has received the endorsement of all who are acquainted with its work. The friends of the education of "colored youth" are cordially invited to investigate its plans and operations, and to cooperate with its officers in conferring the benefits of a liberal and Christian culture on those who prize and so much need this blessing.
