FOREWORD

As you stand before the dawning of success, Look back but once! Look back remembering all the years Of war and peace and human fears. Look back remembering all your plans To make it safe, this world of man's. Look back remembering those who fell Along the way. Remember well Their simple and their grand designs, And let their failures serve as signs. Look back, but only once! As you stand there dazzled by dawn's brilliant light, Look back but once! Look back and call up from the mass The doubtful years we call the past; And cherish them for what they are. Each, one step closer to your star. Look back recalling golden days When haughty voices sang the praise Of brotherhood. They are not gone. They dazzle with your shining dawn. Now turn remembering all these things And go and state your claim with kings.

Walter H. Brooks, Jr. Editor, '49 Lion

DEDICATION

EDWARD REED Dec. 1927—Aug. 1948

Memories linger with all of us through the passing years. The members of this graduating class, as many before us, will have some fond, some gay, some disheartening, some inspiring, memories to carry from these portals with us.

This class has chosen to dedicate its yearbook, which marks an important and successful journey for us all, to our beloved classmate, Edward Reed, who has passed away from this earthly scene.

He will not march triumphantly with us on commencement day. He cannot share in the preparations, the excitement, and the sense of accomplishment, which we carry within our inner selves. He will not see "the grass grow green" on these sacred grounds this Senior year.

But he will never be forgotten. Whenever the mighty toll in the bell-tower of Cresson Hall is heard, we will think of the faithful sexton. Nelson Collins and Ernest Artis, his "ole gals," will carry his spirit with them wherever they go. His teammates on the boxing and wrestling teams will not forget him.

The bell of life has tolled for Eddie. It has just begun for us. We will cherish his memory and carry on. He has gone ahead—we will join him when our battle is won.

HORACE MANN BOND, Ph.D.

President of the University

To the Class of 1949:

You graduate in one of Lincoln University's most historical years. You are the first full post-World War II class; the 95th anniversary class, from the founding; the 90th anniversary class of the first graduates.

In five years you can return to celebrate your first reunion at the time of your Alma Mater's Centennial celebration.

It is good to honor historical memories, and to commemorate the great deeds of those who have gone before.

It is better to make history in your own right. It is better, to use the stimulating inspiration of the past as a starting point from which to reach new individual and institutional goals of achievement.

It is then my hope that the Class of 1949 will be a history-making class for Lincoln University. Undoubtedly many of its members will be distinguished individually at home and abroad for their achievements.

It is my deeper hope that beyond public acclaim, the members of the class of 1949 will be distinguished by that heroic personal satisfaction that comes to men who with disciplined minds and character, do the job the world gives them to do; and do it with simplicity, with integrity, with good spirits, and with concern for their fellow man.

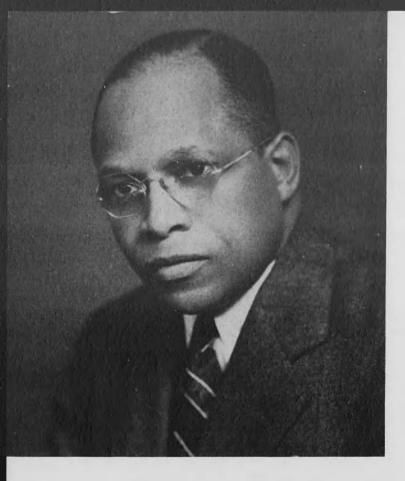

It is not improbable that the next 95 years of human history will mark a change in the tokens of individual success. It has been, pelf and profit; it may well become, unselfish service to the State and to the Human Race.

If this is so, this University was founded on the foundation of ideals beyond its times; and we come only now to the chronological period in which the institutional ideal promises to be the social and national and world goal.

It is for such a world that we yearn; it is such a world that you can help build. May the class of 1949 be truly the architects of a world where distinction rests with those who serve humanity, and not themselves!

Sincerely.

Horace Mann Bourd

FRANK THEODORE WILSON. Ed.D. Dean of Students

June, 1949

TO THE CLASS OF '49:

That you came to Lincoln was good judgment. That you remained was good fortune. That you escaped the sundry hazards to student survival is a tribute to your persistency of effort. On the day of graduation from the College you receive from Alma Mater not only the appropriate reward for academic achievement, but also a release of awakened energies by which you may reckon with the more taxing problems of a complex world.

It matters little that you remained here. It matters profoundly what you did here. Less importance attaches to the variety of your activities than to the kind of person that you have become. Older in years, you are also clearer in thought and more precise in critical reflection; "Heavier" in your store of facts, you are also wiser in making choices and reaching decisions; Freer from the impediments of ignorance and childish whims, you stand today as men whose clear vision and high purpose will save you from trivial living and squandered human powers.

The gifts and the blessings now conferred are not to you for yourselves alone. They are but resources placed in your hands to be refined, expanded and used as you labor to emancipate your fellowmen from ignorance, injustice, disease and despair. In this you may not find ease, nor comfort, nor high prestige; but you may experience that deep satisfaction which comes to men who rise to the height of their understanding and their strength in response to a divinely inspired urge to live nobly and to serve well.

Do not deny the urge and do not dissipate the gifts. To you my continuing good wishes! With you my highest hopes!

Sincerely yours.

To the Class of 1949:

It would be easy to fall into a sentimental vein in expressing a word of parting to you and hard to put into words the feeling that saying goodbye to a group of men with whom one has lived and worked for four years always brings. Nevertheless, I want you to know that the experience of watching you develop from your freshman uncertainty, watching some of you make the difficult transition from military to civilian life, winning and losing with some of you on the athletic fields, and finally sponsoring you as a group of confident, responsible men, has been a pleasure and one of those intangible compensations which come to the teacher and coach. As you part from us it is my hope that you have learned to win gracefully or lose with spirit undefeated, in life as we have done so often here together.

You have proved yourselves worthy Lincoln men; may life find you worthy citizens of a better world which so many of you fought to create.

Sincerely yours,

Manuel Tireir

Shades of the never-again begin to soften the thoughts of the Class of 1950. The void that lies between this and the next act of life is now bared to the shocking light which once the protecting shadow of the departing Seniors absorbed. Why should we not feel aglow with the pride inherent in Lincoln tradition as we find ourselves next heirs in the never ending lineage of Alma Mater. But mere words cannot express such things—even may confound their own purpose in the attempt to reveal the promise, the vision of these men. Herewith the sturdy spirit of this class accepts the unstained mantle from the Class of 1949 with a pledge and a prayer. Godspeed!

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Having reached the two mile mark of our four mile journey through this oasis called Lincoln, we find ourselves stronger in spirit and in the determination to fulfill our dreams. We have passed the troubled years; the years of anxiety and bewilderment, and now firm in purpose we prepare to stride the third and then the fourth mile of our journey, knowing that when we leave this oasis, we will be strong enough and wise enough to seek and find the waterholes of life in that desert vastness we call the world.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Ours is a hard task, but it is one that many before us have accomplished. Because we rated highest on the entrance examinations, we are determined to do a bigger, better job in order that we might justify the faith of our parents and the interest of our leaders. With the spirit of youthfulness and with an unquenchable desire for knowledge, we are working so that we shall see in the end accomplishment.

STUDENT SENATE

The Student Senate replaces the Student Council of former days. It is composed of the chief officers of all the accredited campus organizations. The function of the Senate is to bring to the University renewing faith in the principles and practice of a free society by encouraging campus-wide participation in the direction of the affairs of the Community. The Student Senate undertakes projects concerned with student welfare and community improvement.

The task of capturing in a class book, the culmination of a dream is not an easy one; for interwoven in this final fabric are threads of many moments of ambition, disappointment, and joy that are singularly negligible, yet vital to the whole. The Lion staff has woven such a cloth, and has placed the numerals '49' in its right hand corner. Their job was no easy one, yet they did it with an ardor and an enthusiasm equal to the task. The Lion staff has added one more piece to the quilt of Lincoln history. It is a brilliant piece; one that will not fade with the passing of time.

LINCOLNIAN

At the center of campus life is the progressive, well edited and militant student newspaper—THE LINCOLNIAN. Its columns carry a comprehensive and accurate coverage of news affecting the college community.

Under the inspired leadership of Horace Dawson its scope has also reached out into the broad levels of society, particularly in the areas of social reform to which the student newspaper has become highly sensitive. It provides an appropriate medium for student expression, creative and otherwise.

Under the present leadership THE LINCOLNIAN has set new records in scope, circulation, and all around journalistic excellence.

THE GLEE CLUB

In the 23rd year since its founding, the University Glee Club continues to be an organization in which Lincoln may well take pride, for it has come to rate in artistic and musical standards among the top ranks of college choral groups. This year's group comprises 40 voices. Among the new members two soloists emerged, Gerald Lewis, baritone, and Oliver Burton, tenor. Other soloists featured during the year were John Desane and Chester Adams, baritones, and Harold Benn, tenor. The program for the season was entirely a cappella and featured liturgical music of the Russian Church, Negro spirituals, and music of modern composers.

This season was a full one, beginning with a Christmas concert and two television broadcasts. The Glee Club for the first time in 12 years went on an extensive mid-western concert tour singing in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, West Virginia and D. C.

in addition to numerous concerts in nearby places. In every place in which the group sang its singing was highly praised and enthusiastically received without exception.

Professor Henry Booker, who is the Director and was trained at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music under Olaf Christiansen and at the University of Chicago under Marcel Dupre, has brought a high standard of excellence in both repertoire and choral technique in his two years here.

The Glee Club has sung by invitation at the Westminster Choir College Chapel, Princeton University Theatre, DuPont Estate at Longwood Gardens, broadcasts and recordings from WFIL, WFIL-TV, WIP, Philadelphia. The Glee Club was awarded a certificate of "Award of Merit in Music" from the University of Pennsylvania "in recognition of a high standard of accomplishment in Music."

THE CELL GROUP

The "Cell" group represents a powerful expression of communal devotion to the Christian faith. Each member is cognizant of the significance of the spiritual forces which sustain a peculiar sense of unity in Christ, stimulate a singular zeal in service for Christ, and strengthen its members with an individual as well as group sense of mission "for the furtherance of the Kingdom of God on earth."

JOHN MILLER DICKEY SOCIETY

The John Miller Dickey Society was organized for those young men planning to enter the active Christian ministry. During the years its horizon has been broadened wherein it embraces all men who are desirous of Christian fellowship and are planning to commit themselves to one of the many phases of Christian service.

The society purposes are to maintain the profound doctrine and principles of the founder of this great institution of learning, John Miller Dickey, and to assist in the spiritual development of each individual of our University community.

Philosophy Club

The Philosophy Club has become the haven for the campus intellectuals. The exchange of gems of wisdom and ignorance has not been confined to the local community but has been extended to many outstanding schools in the area. The Lincoln University Philosophy Club has participated in Philosophical meets with the philosophy clubs of John Hopkins University, Franklin and Marshall College, Howard University, Haverford College, Swarthmore College, Muhlenberg College and Gettysburg College. On April 12, the Philosophy Club played host to several universities who met here to discuss "The Function of Error." This meet was one of the first and most outstanding of its kind.

Le Cercle Français

Le Cercle Français has as the clef of its contributions to the Lincoln community a two-fold purpose:

- 1. To arouse the students' interest in improving their speaking of French so that they will work to gain greater skill in the use of good conversational French.
- 2. To familiarize the entire college community with French customs and culture, ancient and contemporary.

Students of French and lovers of the French arts, cathedrals, and architecture find in Le Cercle Francais an atmosphere favorable to their true development of an appreciation for the French way of life and for the spirit of "la douce France."

BETA KAPPA CHI

Founded at Lincoln University, this honorary scientific society is dedicated to the pursuit of scientific truth and is restricted to the ablest science students in the University. It has as its purpose the encouragement of scholarship, not only in science, but in other fields as well. Its members write research papers and discuss pertinent developments in the world of science (in terms of electrons, protoplasmic cells, neurons and their derivatives).

The society is composed of upperclassmen who have maintained an average of 2.00 or better in at least 25 hours of science and who have a general average of not less than 3.00 in all other subjects.

SCIENCE CLUB

The haltering of the forces of nature as evidenced by the releasing of the atomic bomb, brought out in a more explicit manner than ever the nearness of science to the people of the world today. With such a dynamic and profound background the formation of the Science Club is seen as the recognition of this fact upon Lincoln's campus.

The purpose of the Science Club is to foster science by discovering new talent and bringing to light those potential philanthropists that otherwise would have been cast into oblivion. While the regular work in the classroom gives us a slight insight into the processes of science, we in the Science Club will endeavor to delve more deeply and with a kener interest into those processes. Likewise we will attempt to reach the core of curiosity and concern among the students who sit and cogitate about scientific concepts.

"Waste not the talents of the fruitful minds; fertilize them so that they may blossom forth with ideas superb." With this quotation illustrating in a most profound manner the purpose of any constructive organization in mind, the Science Club of Lincoln University strives for world progress.

YMCA CABINET

The Y.M.C.A. Cabinet sets as its objective the achievement of a well integrated campus-wide program which lends itself to the development in Lincoln men of the qualities of social consciousness, spiritual maturity, and academic assiduity.

Among the more outstanding activities of this year's Cabinet were the introduction of a more acceptably democratic procedure of cabinet-member selection, the sponsorship of instructive panels on pre and post marital problems, and the initiation and leadership of various discussion groups on subjects which generally affect student life.

NORTH JEHSEY CLUB

The North Jersey Club was formed for the specific purpose to create a closer relationship among the students of North Jersey through their sponsoring of educational and social projects on and off the campus of Lincoln University.

LINCOLN PLAYERS

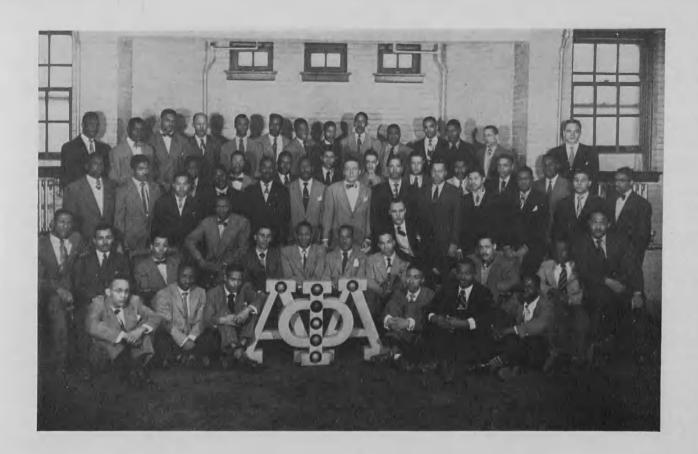

A liberal arts college has as one of its duties the introduction to the arts of Music, Painting, Sculpture and the Drama. Through the Lincoln Players, the art of the Drama is brought from between the margins of the textbook onto the living, breathing stage. We of the Players feel this debt to the student body of Lincoln University. If we are able to entertain, to move you to laughter or a lump in the throat, then we shall rest contented. Pardon, did we say rest? We meant rehearse.

PAN HELLENIC COUNCIL

The members of Nu Chapter, $A\Phi A$, Epsilon Chapter, $KA\Psi$, Mu Chapter, $\Phi B\Sigma$, and Beta Chapter $\Omega\Psi\Phi$, in order to foster a closer relationship of support among Greeks, to engender a spirit of interfraternal friendship among campus chapters, to spread the aims and ideals of Inter-Collegiate Fraternities among the general public have formed the Pan-Hellenic Council of Lincoln University. The Council is composed of four members from each Fraternity. The officers elected for the year 1948-49 are: George Russell, Chairman, of KA Ψ , and John Carter II, Secretary-Treasurer, of A Φ A.

ALPHA PHI ALPHA

Established at Lincoln University in 1912, NU Chapter was the first of the Greek Letter fraternities on the Campus and it has ever since attempted to bring to the life of the University the rich reserve of worthful achievement found in its precepts of "Manly Deeds, Scholarship, and Love for All Mankind." NU Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha has been tireless in its efforts to bring to the Campus artists and speakers of wide reknown and has presented, since 1946 the annual Alpha Medallion Award to outstanding citizens of the nation. The Brothers of NU Chapter are active in every phase of campus life. The Annual Medallion Ball is one of the highlights of the Spring social season.

KAPPA ALPHA PSI

Epsilon Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity was founded at Lincoln University on the fifteenth of December, 1914: being the first chartered chapter in the East. Through the years Epsilon has tried to maintain the standards of Kappa Alpha Psi in keeping with the fundamental purpose which is achievement. Epsilon sponsors yearly the Freshman Oratorical Contest and Guide Right Week. Its main purpose is to instill within the young college men a "sense of mission" and worth to the world. On these premises it is dedicated to achievement in college and subsequent life which may encourage and point the way to aspirants in their various fields of endeavor.

PHI BETA SIGMA

The history of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity dates back to 1914 on the campus of Howard University when Moss, Brown, and Taylor were imbued with the motto of "Culture for Service and Service for Humanity." And through the many years since the issuing of Mu chapter's charter on Lincoln University's campus, Sigma Brothers have left Mu Chapter permeated with their omnipotent motto as their immediate guide through life. Let us, as men of Lincoln and Brothers of Sigma, look back upon our four years of study remembering the football games, smokers, dances, cultural hours, and the immortal week of hell! Let us call into our esoteric thought the rivalry of other organizations, the philosophies of our professors and may we emerge victoriously—shouting, "along the line our cause speeds on its way."

OMEGA PSI PHI

Since the organization of the second chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity at Lincoln University in 1914, Beta has through each succeeding year followed an upward course of achievements which has placed it in its rightful position today.

A new era at Beta was initiated with the termination of the war and is still progressing as is evident by the past which was high-lighted by an outstanding barn dance with the lovely Deltas of Howard University as guests; and more recently the Annual Beta Ball in Philadelphia. Beta was also active in the University's Religious Emphasis Week.

With this year's activities drawing to a close, Beta will lose from its fold many outstanding brothers. Our loss will be the gain of the country, and of our graduate chapters.

THE FRESHMAN ADVISORY SYSTEM

The Freshman Advisory System constitutes one aspect of our total Guidance and Counseling Program. The class is divided into eleven groups of twelve to fifteen students. For every group there is a Faculty Advisor and a Junior or Senior Student Assistant. Meetings are held approximately once per month in Faculty Advisors' homes. Every meeting provides for recreation, discussion of individual problems, development of group morale and planning future group activities. The aims and objectives of these Freshman Advisory Groups are: (1) to help in the development of efficient study habits; (2) to help in the achievement of satisfactory social participation; (3) to help in motivating the student for maximum effort in his college courses and in his life work; (4) to help in the development of an adequate life philosophy including a sense of responsible citizenship on the campus and in the larger non-academic community.

VARSITY CLUB

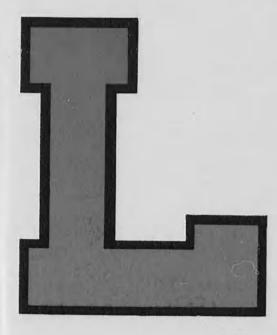

With the advent of the new school year, the Varsity Club began operations with a small club due to the 1948 graduation. However, under the able leadership of Bridgeforth, Whisonant, Wormley and Hawkins, the Club started a rigid drive for new members who had just won the varsity letter. This was not the only endeavor of the Club, for they sponsored a dance during Homecoming in the Grim Gymnasium. It has awarded varsity sweaters to all its members and plans to do the same for all the new men. This year the Club will again lose several key men—Chippey and Davidson among them. Nevertheless, the new men have been instilled with the initiative of the departing members and should carry on gloriously.

FOOTBALL

Coach Stackhouse made his debut as head football coach this season by producing a fairly ferocious Lion squad. The season's record was marred by a loss to our traditional foe, Howard, and a most humiliating defeat at the hands of Delaware State. However, the team and the school have much to be proud of, for they came within one game of trying for the CIAA championship, and for the first time in many a year, they humbled the Morgan Bear.

Veteran players, Captain Sid Bridgforth, Andrew Wertz, George Taliaferro, and George Harmon played their last games for the Orange and Blue this season.

The 1950 Lions will have one objective in mind; namely, to avenge the defeat at Howard.

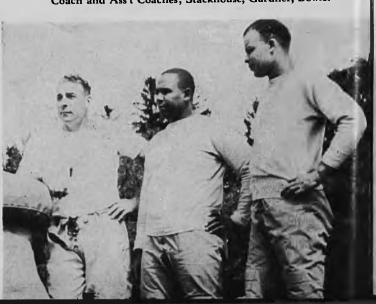

September 18—Lock Haven

Coach and Ass't Coaches; Stackhouse, Gardner, Bowie.

For the second consecutive year, the Lions opened the season by losing to a more experienced Lock Haven eleven. Lock Haven scored twice in the first quarter; Kulak went over from the two for the first marker, and Booth passed to Snaith for the second T.D. The last goal came in the final quarter; after Lock Haven recovered a Lion fumble, Colliver went over his right tackle to pay dirt. Zwald was successful in two out of three conversions.

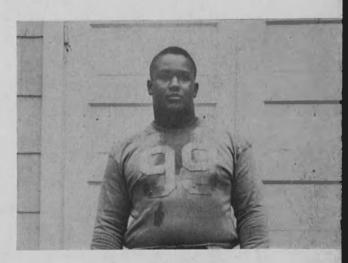

Stand outs for Lincoln defensively were Captain Sid Bridgforth and Frank McCray, while freshman quarter-back Bob Smith was the offensive spark plug.

LOCK HAVEN 20, LINCOLN 0.

October 2-Steubenville

The Lions traveled all the way to Ohio in order to overwhelm the Steubenville Barons in the second game of the season. The first score came in the first quarter, when guard Frank McCray scooped up a Baron fumble and sprinted forty yards to the end zone. The second tally resulted from the Simms to Davis pass combination. In the third period Bob Smith flipped the pigskin to Cooke for the third T.D. Smith, who kept the crowd on the edge of their seats with his spectacular passing, shot another bullet to Davis late in the third quarter for the final marker. Hightower converted after the second and final tallies. Andrew Wertz, senior from Philadelphia, was the outstanding ground gainer for the Lions.

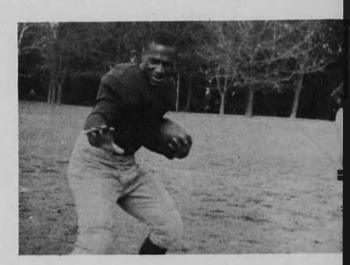

Sidney "Tiny" Bridgforth

The Lions completed sixteen out of twenty-seven passes for a total of 279 yards and collected a total of 17 first downs to the Baron's seven.

LINCOLN 26, STEUBENVILLE 0.

October 9-Delaware State

The Lions faced Delaware State in their first home game of the season. This game turned out to be the surprise of the year as the highly underrated Hornets succeeded in stinging the mighty Lions. Delaware drew first blood as Hart scored early in the first period on a 13 yard pass from Epps. Crawley converted, and the Hornets went ahead 7-0. This was the last time in the entire game that the Hornets passed the Lincoln 20-yard line, but they more than made up for their weak offensive play with their highly spirited and effective defensive play. The Lions marched to within the Hornet's 3-yard line no less than four times throughout the game, but they just could not muster up enough punch to crack the Hornet forward wall. Finally in the last quarter Lincoln started a drive which ended in a T.D. Cooke intercepted a Hornet pass on the Lion 34, and returned it to the 38. A pass from Smith to

Andrew "Andy" Wertz

Davis took the oval to the Hornet 17. Holmes and Wertz lugged it to the 4 on successive plays, and Wertz bull-dozed his way to pay dirt from the 4. The Lions muffed the all-important conversion attempt.

DELAWARE STATE 7, LINCOLN 6.

October 16-Virginia Union

Miss Homecoming and Attendants

The Lions celebrated Homecoming by thoroughly trouncing the Panthers of Virginia Union, in honor of the beautiful Homecoming Queen, Miss Allayne Turner, of Durham, N. C. The Lincoln goals came in the first and final periods. "Jolting" Joe Harris, running star of the day, broke the ice in the first four minutes of play, as he went over from the one vard stripe. Andrew Wertz, a persistent ground gainer, set up the play with a 57-yard run. In the fourth period, Cooke, a freshman end, intercepted a pass on the Union 35 and returned it to the 4, from which point Harris again bucked across. Harris couldn't be stopped, because late in the fourth quarter he grabbed the ball on the 22 and completely outran the bewildered Panthers for the third and final Lion marker. Warren Oldham, powerdiving Union fullback, made the only Panther touchdown, crashing over from the 5 in the second period. Perkins converted for the extra point. Lincoln's only successful conversion attempt came after the third touchdown on a pass from quarterback Smith to Cooke. Leland Burris, aggressive end from New Castle, Pa., added two more points to the Lion's score when he smothered Union back, Emerson Robinson, behind the goal for a safety.

LINCOLN 21, UNION 7.

October 23-Morgan

George Harmon

The Lions traveled to Baltimore to meet the proud Morgan Bears, and left them less proud, very bewildered, and thoroughly beaten. The contest was waged in a sea of mud, which caused both teams to develop severe cases of "fumblitis." It was "Jolting" Joe Harris, our boy from D. C., who accounted for two of the Lion's scores. Andrew Wertz, senior from Philly, scored the third marker on a beautiful 26-yard jaunt. The sole Lincoln conversion resulted from a pass from Smith to Branch. Morgan scored twice, once on a 63 yard run by Brice, and the other on a freak play which came about when "Clipper" Berry suddenly found a fumbled ball in his hands and raced over the goal. In desperation, the Bears launched a pass attack late in the fourth period, but the final gun found them still passing in their own territory.

LINCOLN 19, MORGAN 12.

October 30-Hampton

The Lions continued their winning streak by routing the Pirates of Hampton Institute on Ruppert's Field, Newark, N. J. A crowd of 5,000 which included Larry Doby, Cleveland Indian star, saw the Lion strike twice, once on a line plunge by Joe Harris, and finally on an 85 yard run by Jim Cooke after a pass interception. Defensively the Lions were airtight, as they thwarted at least six Pirate touchdown attempts. Especially commendable was the magnificent punting of Bob Smith, coupled with the great defensive work of the forward wall composed of Reeves, Cooke, Sistrunk, All CIAA lineman Captain Sid Bridgforth, Prentice, McCray and Wallace.

LINCOLN 12, HAMPTON 0.

George Taliaferro

November 13-Winston-Salem

The Lions made another bid for the CIAA Title, and thrilled the "rabble" in their final home game of the season, by defeating the undefeated Winston-Salem State Teachers' College. It was that man, Harris, again who stole the show as he scored once on a spectacular 81 yard jaunt, and again on a three yard line plunge. A 15 yard T.D. pass from Smith to Cooke, a sensational 17 yard conversion by Solomon Harp, and a last period safety, completed the Lion's scoring for the day. The Ram threatened several times, but the Lion forward wall was immovable. George Harmon, senior from Camden, N. J., sparkled as he teamed with Joe Harris to account for most of the Lion yardage.

LINCOLN 21, WINSTON-SALEM O.

Oscar "Red" Ross

November 20-Bergen

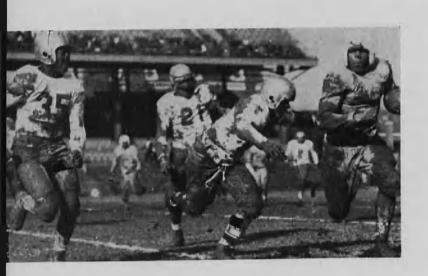

Bergen College successfully protected their unblemished record by humbling a favored Lion team before a partisan crowd at Jersey City. Bergen back, Ed Jesonek, crossed the Lion goal in the first and third periods. Eugene Mancino accounted for the final Bergen tally in the fourth quarter, also successfully completing a conversion attempt.

Lincoln's goal was made on a 35-yard sprint by Hilton Davis after he had intercepted a Bergen pass. Unfortunately a 17-yard touchdown jaunt by Joe Harris, and a 70-yard T.D. pass from Smith to Cooke were called back by the officials.

The major excitement of the game was provided by the Lion in the dying moments of the first half. Bob Smith, quarterback, directed the team from the Lincoln 5 yard line to the Bergen 2, without once giving up the ball in downs. Wertz started the ball rolling with a 25 yard run to the Lion 30. Then Smith tossed Cooke a pass which developed into a 70 yard T.D., but the official ruled that Cooke stepped out on the 44. Wertz and Davis alternated the ball and Smith completed 3 passes to place the ball on the enemy two as the gun went off. BERGEN 19, LINCOLN 6.

November 25-Howard

Lincoln's high hopes of tying for the CIAA championship with West Virginia fizzled away to naught as a rugged Bison eleven slung passes all over the field, completely baffling the Lion defenses. It was the 43rd Lincoln-Howard Turkey Day Classic and a tough one to lose. It was the lethal arm of Chuck Ross, Bison quarterback, which spelled defeat for the Lions, as he tossed no less than three touchdown passes. Joe Harris accounted for one of the Lion markers when he cracked across from the two. George Harmon celebrated his final game for Alma Mater by playing a "bang-up" offense and by scoring the final Lion tally. It'll be a different story in 1949!

HOWARD 19, LINCOLN 12.

SOCCER

Under the able tutelage of Coaches Souillard and Polk, the 1948 Lion's Soccer Team completed a relatively successful season of four wins and an equal number of losses.

Overcoming the "goal-famine" of the two previous seasons the Orange and Blue racked up a total of 18 goals for an average of 2.3 per game against a total of 9 goals for their opponents. Decisive victories were chalked up against Elizabethtown College, Bloomsburg Teachers College, Ursinus, and Swarthmore College, although the Lions also lost to Elizabethtown and Bloomsburg and dropped two close matches to our perennial rivals Howard by the scores of 2-1 and 1-0. The latter match, the last of the season was bitterly fought here at Lincoln and the regulation game ended in a scoreless tie. In the closing minutes of the overtime period Howard's team scored the decisive point.

Only one outstanding player, David "Panama" Crawford, will be lost through graduation this year—but his loss will be sorely felt for good center halfbacks are difficult to replace. He did a good job of backing up the high scoring forward line. The splendid teamwork of Odeluga, Aroh, and Delgado cannot be overlooked for they were instrumental in keeping down the opponents' score.

With the majority of the "48" team expecting to return, it is confidently believed that Lincoln University will have an undefeated season and will merit recognition as one of the outstanding soccer teams in the East.

BASKETBALL

With last season's nucleus of George Moore, Lloyd Thornhill, Ben Brown, and "Stretch" Williams, plus veteran players Bobby Edelen, "Eggy" Hawkins, Patterson, and Johnson and a couple of promising freshmen in the persons of Bob Smith and Jim Cooke, the Lions looked forward to dominating the basketball scene his year. Though the season hasn't as yet been completed the Lions have compiled an impressive record and will long be remembered as one of the best teams that Lincoln has produced.

The Lions have done their share to better race relations this year by playing a large number of interracial games. They have been well received everywhere because of their athletic prowess and gentlemanly behavior.

George Moore, sophomore courtman from New York City, is having another great season, completely baffling the opponents with his tricky style of ball handling. Ben Brown, aggressive forward from Baltimore, has been the defensive giant, while Williams and Thornhill have contributed a great deal to the team's success with their level-headed ball playing.

Clarence "Eggy" Hawkins

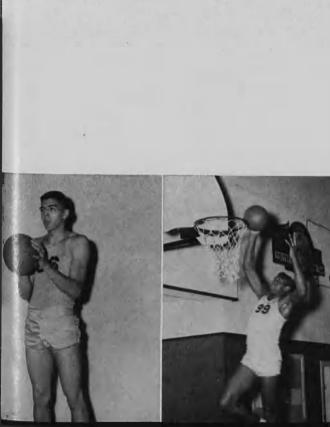

Baskethall

Freshman stars, Bob Smith and Jim Cooke, have been playing impressive ball, exhibiting tangible evidence that the Lions should be strong on the court for at least the next three years. Surprise comeback of the year was made by senior "Eggy" Hawkins, who donned the Lion's colors after Bobby Edelen left school the second semester. "Eggy" had been serving as the Junior Varsity Coach.

In CIAA competition the Lions have met with success. They have played Howard, Morgan, Delaware State, and Virginia Union two times each, and have come out with a record of four wins and four losses, sharing one victory and one defeat with each team. In their only meeting with Johnson C. Smith University the Lions went wild, racking up no less than 93 points. In their non-conference, interracial games, the Lions have fared somewhat better, garnishing wins over such teams as Lebanon Valley, Indiana State Teachers', New England College, Moravian College, and Franklin and Marshall, while dropping games to Alfred University, Shippensburg State, and Oberlin College.

With only one senior on the squad, and in view of their good win-loss record and added experience, the Lions are looking forward to a much greater season next year.

BOXING AND WRESTLING

The Lincoln University boxing team thus far has been handicapped in its competitive matches but has performed not too badly under the prevailing conditions. Suffering because the majority of the boxers are centered in one weight, and because they are inexperienced and could not secure the proper amount of matches to condition themselves, they have nonetheless fought hard and in several individual cases, emerged victorious.

They were off to a slow training start and had to work hard to get into fighting shape. Our veterans of last year, Robert Larkins, Leo Seahorne, Robert Hanna, and Adolph "Doc" Tyler, have had weight and injury problems.

Bob Hanna who was unable to participate in our first triangular meet because of injuries, fought a cool and cautious fight and held Strickland of Howard University to a draw. Hanna, who graduates this year, has proved he is a capable battler and we look forward to his future bouts with the belief that he will emerge victoriously.

Under the tutelage of their mentor, Coach Robert Gardner, and the careful training program of their instructor, Calvin "Chico" Wilson, a veteran ringman, we expect to see a well conditioned group of battlers leave for the tournament at Virginia Union.

Boxing and Wrestling

The 1949 Lion wrestling season got underway with a triangular meet with Morgan and Delaware State. The Lion grapplers came out second best, with Delaware first and Morgan trailing the two. Everybody was glad to see Donald Randall, veteran matman, back in shape and proving it by pinning his opponent. We were very disappointed to hear that Captain Sam Goudelock suffered an injury in practice and would not be able to wrestle; it is hoped, however, that he will be ready when the team travels to Virginia for the CIAA tournament. Among the newcomers to the squad are: Cardwell, Curry, Wisner, and Preston in the lighter weights; McCoy, Collins, Williams, Stockton, Reeves, Hightower, and Gordon, in the heavier weights.

The second triangular meet brought the Lions together with Howard and Morgan, and the match resulted in a two-way tie between Morgan and Lincoln.

The Lions will lose Captain Sam Goudelock this year, and it will be a great loss. During the past three years he has compiled a brilliant record on the mat. In 1947 he was CIAA champion in the 145 pound class, and last year he was runner up for the same title. Because of his long string of victories, Sam received honorable mention in a national wrestling magazine.

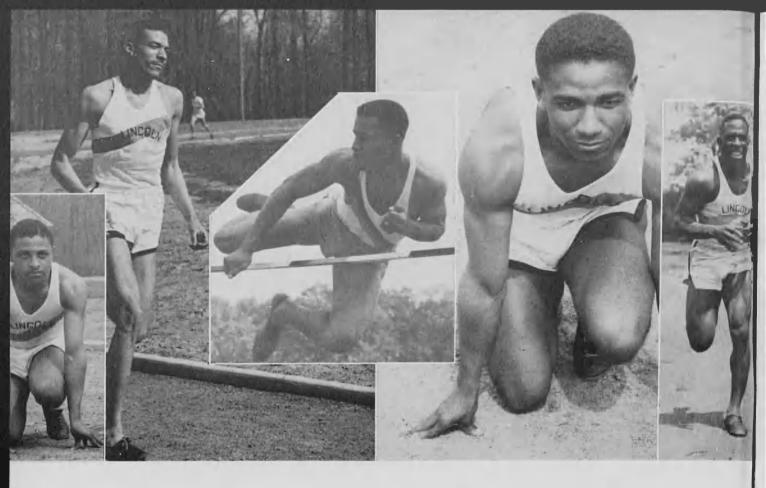

TRACK

The 1948 Lincoln University track season was highlighted by three facts: an undefeated dual meet season; an outstanding performance at the Penn Relays and a surprising performance in the CIAA Conference meet that shoved the Lions up into third place in the final conference standing.

Sherman Patterson scored 48 points to lead all other individual performers in the total season's scoring as Lincoln defeated Lock Haven by a single point—67-66; ran away from LaSalle 87 to 34; defeated Shippensburg and tied West Chester Teachers' in a triangular meet; and outclassed Bloomsburg Teachers' by a 109-24 margin.

Competing against 28 teams from all parts of the nation, the Lion quartet of Howard Thomas, Lafayette Robinson, George Harmon, and Fred Jones won their qualifying heat from the University of Oklahoma and placed third in the finals for the American Championship 880 yard relay with a time of 1:28.6. The event was won by Manhattan College with the University of Pittsburgh second and the Army sprinters from West Point in fourth place.

Lincoln performed as follows in the conference meet: Sherman Patterson won the high jump at 6'1" and placed second in the javelin with a throw of 178'; Reginald Pulley was second in the discus with 138'; Sidney Bridgforth placed fifth in the shot put; Albert Mitchell ran fifth in the high hurdle finals; Harold Martin missed first in the 880 by an inch with a brilliant last moment kick; Howard Thomas and Fred Jones finished second and third in the 220 respectively. The surprise of the day was the performance of the makeshift mile relay team that led the pack for three laps and finished in third spot in the final standing ahead of favored Morgan State. Lafayette Robinson's 49 flat leadoff quarter was followed by Harold Martin, Howard Thomas and Fred Jones. Lincoln's time was 3:25.2.

With most of the 1948 squad back again this year, Coach Rivero's diamond men should have a great season. This year's squad boasts four seniors, including last year's captain George Taliaferro; pitching ace Walter Brooks, veteran moundsman James "Lefty" Dailey, and Archie Young. Last season's Lion ball-hustlers met with five victories and three defeats in CIAA competition, copping wins from Howard, N.C. State, Delaware State, and the 1947 championship team, North Carolina A & T, while dropping games to Howard, N. C. State, and Shaw. The regular lineup consisted of Joe Fuller, strong arm shortstop; "Lefty" Wess, lanky first sacker; Bill Scott, sure footed third baseman; Captain George Taliaferro, expert second baseman; Frank McCray and Billy King alternating at the backstop position. Roaming the outfields with great skill and agility were: Walker, "Jolting" Joe Harris, and Randall. Walter Brooks, speedball artist from D. C., undertook the majority of the pitching chores. The relief assignments went to "Big Jesse" Polk, strong arm right-hander from Pennsauken, N. J., Morgan Gaynor, crafty moundsman from New Rochelle, N. Y., and "Lefty" Archie Young.

1-0 two-hit victory over Howard, a rarity in college baseball. It was Walter Brooks who turned in this pitching masterpiece. The Howard clubmen were completely baffled by his hopping fast ball, and sharp-breaking curve. Taliaferro supplied the Lions with the all important one run margin when he singled in the first frame, advanced to third on two successive plays, and finally stole home on a passed Taliaferro and Young

TENNIS

The varsity court team of Lincoln University had a very successful season in 1948. They made an extensive tour of the South, competing against Lynchburg, Va., North Carolina A and T College, St. Augustine College, Hampton Institute, and Howard University. In the CIAA tournament held at Winston-Salem, N. C., the doubles team of Louis Chippey and Hylton Davis reached the finals only to go down in defeat before our erstwhile foe, Howard University, after a grueling five-set match. Chippey also reached the semi-final round of Men's Single.

The Lincoln team finished in a second place tie with Hampton Institute. The season was rounded out by dual matches with Morgan State, West Chester State Teachers College, LaSalle College, Hampton Institute, and Howard University.

The team will suffer a great loss this season when Co-Captains Louis Chippey and Dave Wormley don the "sober black" of graduation. Experienced courtmen, Davis, Comegys, Hart, and Pollard, will form the nucleus of next year's team.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Under the guidance of Coach Bowie, the interest in intramural sports at Lincoln has undergone a decided improvement in the past two years. Coach Bowie's tireless efforts in organizing and supervising the intramural softball, touch football, and basketball leagues are to be commended. The teams have been composed of various campus organizations, and mixed groups of students, who have banded themselves together in the interest of good clean fun and sportsmanship. There has been a large percentage of student participation in these activities.

Two outstanding teams in this intramural competition were the Royal Hawks two year winners of the touch-football crown, and the Kappa Alpha basketball league championship team of 1947-48.

The Royal Hawks were an interesting example of a motley group which clicked athletically. Its members represented three different fraternities and three different classes; playing coach Edward Chappelle, Captain Walter Brooks, Sam Goudelock, William Hooks, "Eggy" Hawkins, Zane Phoenix, "Stretch" Williams, Bill Simmons, and Robert Turnquest. By capturing the National League title, and defeating the Noisemakers of the American League in an exciting play-off game, they became the campus champions for the second consecutive year. The outstanding offensive star was Sam Goudelock, who ran circles around opposing teams. The hard charging line, composed of Walter Brooks.

Ed Chappelle, and "Stretch" Williams was largely responsible for the success of the team. "Eggy" Hawkins handled most of the passing chores, and the consistent work of Phoenix, Simmons, Turnquest, and Hooks all added up to make the team one of championship calibre.

The 1947-48 intramural baseketball scene was dominated by the Kappa "Whiz Kids." The team was built around the sparkling offensive work of Hooks, Levi, Rich, Bridgforth, and Brown. This Ganges has been ably assisted by Kappa men such as: Hooks, Levi, Rich, Bridgeforth, and Brown. This team has won the respect of the campus for its athletic skill and sportsmanship. At this writing it looks as though the 1948-49 champs will be the winner on an Alpha-Omega playoff game but the Kappas still have big hopes of successfully defending their

History of Class

Beauty was never in greater abundance. It is as though heaven has lent us its finest splendor for this our finest hour. All around there is music—the sweet refrain of winged choristers, as they flutter about in the tree tops, the steady hum of the tractor in the distance, the gently rustling of leaves by gently persistent breezes. The life blood of Spring has surged through the ash and the pine, adding depth to their greenness and vigor to their fragrance. They stand in mute majesty in the grove, across the fields, and atop the hills that roll unevenly toward the horizon. The air is perfumed with the rich freshness of newly turned soil. Two butterflies chase each other through the brush of the evergreen, skirmish momentarily across the grass, then fly gayly upward, up, up, losing themselves in the blinding azure. And this is the setting for our long awaited pageant. This is the first end of our quest. This is where striving ends to begin anew. This is commencement!

Look they're waiting for us in the Grove, waiting for the processional to begin. There's Mom, and Dad; there's Jane, and Claire, and Anne, and Dot, all rapt with expectancy. It's about time to begin. But this is not really the beginning is it? Our march began more than a decade ago-back in 1938 when William Robinson, graduating with us today, first entered the archway. How many changes have taken place since then! Scraps of our history are still lost in the marshes of the Philippines, among the rubble of Salerno, along the banks of the Rhine, in the crumbled remains of Hiroshima. These are the bits of our history that are lost to the years. The face of the earth has been altered and the entire course of human history has been changed by our coming and our going.

For we are, standing here today, a peculiar personality, a curious amalgamation of the old and the new. Represented in this largest of Lincoln's classes is the last great concentration of "rehabilitated servicemen," and at the same time, the first large group of men in a decade uncalled by the wars.

Our strongest concentration entered Maple Drive in the school year 1945-46, when 187 freshmen joined the long tradition of Lincoln Men. Of that original lot, 41 are here among us today. Some will finish with later classes. Some failed to stay around to "watch the grass grow green." Still others deserted our ranks for different pursuits. Fifty men joined us along the way—some on their return from the wars, others from different schools.

But today we are all alike in achievement, in purpose, and partly in memories. We have known both disappointment and triumph along the academic path. We have aimed at this far off day and have finally come to it. And there are collective as well as private memories that infuse our total reflections upon Alma Mater-the "diehards" from the old school who made us welcome with brutal camaraderie, our first acquaintance with the awesome beauty of Lincoln Springtime, the Veteran's "Protest March," the stubborn emblems of ancient tradition being finally and everlastingly extinguished by a new emphasis; famous visitors, such as Paul Robeson, Ralph Bunche, Carol Brice, the "Oxford Incident," our final humbling of the Morgan Bear in the mud of Baltimore, the new uniform craze, the basketball victory over Howard in Orange, the sudden death of Dr. Cameron, Eddie Reed's failure to return for the last leg of the journey, and a thousand million other memories that go to make this day meaningful.

If the "Protest March," on that "hot" issue of stoves being removed from the Veteran's units and the cold reception given the "Progressive Bonfire" of 1947 are examples of our problems of readjustment, then the memorable scene of the whole of Lincoln gathered in the mud and rain at half time on the Baltimore gridiron in '48 singing the Alma Mater, symbolizes our bond of oneness with every man who ever learned to love the Orange and Blue. Precious memories, all!

And now, the music sounds in the distance. Slowly we move toward the Grove, each step taking us nearer to a new kind of life. Soon we, too, shall join that noble Fraternity of noble sons who live and work to further glorify their Alma Mater.

HORACE G. DAWSON, JR.

CLASS

I felt a tightening of the heart strings as the old familiar tower of Lincoln grew nearer and after twenty years, the aging tower still held fond memories. This homecoming reunion of the Class of '49 brought forth an ambivalent feeling of buoyancy and deflation. Wondering about the old grads who said fond adieus twenty years before at the 1949 graduation ceremonies, I unconsciously speeded up my return to Lincoln.

Before I could turn into the arch I was mobbed by a happy throng of old grads led by Drs. Lee Long and Dave Wormley, who had arrived early to begin the festivities. It didn't take me long to join the throng, and scarcely had I emerged from my car when a resounding slap on my back sent me reeling. And "Tiny" Bridgforth, now a renowned football coach and down to a slim 285 pounds greeted me. With him was his assistant, "Moon" Morris, showing all the earmarks of prosperity. Hardly had I time to recover before a bearded individual drew my attention. It took me several minutes to recognize Dr. George Carter, now head of the Philosophy Department at Temple University, in deep conversation with his old roomie, Edward Dawley. I decided to try to reach Rendall Hall but I was stopped by an energetic gentleman giving out pamphlets and to my surprise I found it to be old Horace Dawson who was giving away sample replicas of his own newspaper The Georgia Herald. I was more than glad to receive a paper and on scanning it I found Dawson to be a crusading publisher with a staff of able bodied men led by Walter Brooks, his managing editor. I continued on my walk and stopped off at the library, a 260,000 volume plant. I learned that Dr. William Hooks, who has his own research clinic in Chicago, would be unable to attend the reunion due to the fact that his research biologists, George Thomas, James Calloway, Armstead Robinson, were on the verge of a world shattering discovery and would have to remain in the west to present their findings.

A short distance from the library a friendly argument was ensuing between two very distinguished gentlemen, Lou Chippey, now president at St. Augustine College, and our own Dr. Bond. They were discussing the merits of coeducation and as usual Chippey was wrong but loud. Dr. Bond was helped by his assistant, "Bus" Gaither, the efficiency expert of the university. For a time I forgot I came to see a football game, but presently the crowd started milling toward the new stadium, dedicated to Andrew Wertz, who is now supervisor of schools in Philadelphia. I was joined by Lionel Davenport, wearing the blue suit of his profession-undertaking. As we took our seats in the stands the Lincoln coaching staff led by Oscar Ross came onto the field. The school physician, George Harmon, gave a last minute check-up to the boys and Vernon Jones, the trainer, checked the uniforms in preparation for the contest. As the captain took his position on the field, a loud yell shook the stands as Jim Bolden, now a successful Nash agent in Michigan, saw his son reign as captain of the Lions' football team. The game was delayed several minutes until the guest of honor, Lonnie Cross, now a big physicist, presented a new observatory to the school.

As exciting as the game was the attention in the stands centered around the renewing of old acquaintances. Before we realized it, the first half was over and the half-time festivities had begun. Dr. Bond followed by members of the administration—William Philpot, Dean of the Seminary; John Jones, Dean of the College; and Fenton Harris, Business Manager—trooped to the field. An award was being presented by Dr. Bond to the law firm of Carter, Shields and Garrett for their work on civil rights in Georgia. After this momentous occasion a poem written by poet laureate "Bob" Abrams was read to the fans commemorating the class of "49."

The second presentation was to the outstanding chemist who had solved the z-rays of the moon. Archie Young, head of these researchers, accepted the award for his group consisting of Joseph Cooper, Ben Dyett, James Newby, John Streetz. After this award, the Lincoln men sang the Alma Mater with watery eyes and realized these words would bind them together forever. As if to climax the occasion the loud speaker boomed out that three men of the class of 1949 had been nominated for the Pulitzer Prize in Medicine: Ansel Payne, Elvyn Davidson and William Weathers, having successfully isolated virus X, were now in line for the crowning attestment of their work. To think I was worried about the fortunes of these men of '49!

To our dismay we learned there was a second half to the football game and by now the stands were really in high spirits. Not only because our team was leading, but because a feeling of the old camaraderie was seeping back into these old grads. Before I could settle myself in my seat, a flock of children streamed by me trailed by Lloyd Hopewell. He had brought his entire school, of which he was principal, down from York for the game. With him was George Taliaferro, who is Physical Director of the same school. These two are building the minds and bodies of the youth of America. Back to the game. The football game itself was secondary, in fact it was just a backdrop for the returning grads who want only to grasp a bit of the past at the present to treasure for the future. Twilight dipped its dusky fingers over the campus as the game ended and the tiring men began the trek back to the world of reality. But this day of reunion was indeed a shot in the arm to these men who found they could rekindle old memories. Yes, we are tired and weary but it was worth it to see the men of the Class of '49 and to share the success they have attained.

CLARENCE HAWKINS

The Last Will and Testament

We, the members of Phi Sigma Delta, having spent on this campus days that we will forever cherish in our hearts and minds and being motivated to leave an indelible impression in the memories of the unworthies who aspire to become as great as we, do make the following bequests.

To Professor Manuel Rivero, our advisor, we leave our heartiest thanks for the guidance he has given us.

Lee Long, Jr., bequeaths his bottomless shoes to anyone on the campus who can walk barefooted nine months of the year.

John Streetz leaves his track suit and vitamin pills to Milton Oates.

Dave Wormley surrenders his position as maitre d'hotel to Oliver Dukes.

Sid Bridgforth leaves his football ability to "Ears" Randall with the hope that he will make the varsity after three years of trying.

"Heavy" Weathers leaves his love for mint juleps to no one. He's taking it back to Kentucky with him.

"Viro" Archie Young and "Dixie Belle" Dailey leave the keys to the State Store to the Class of '50.

"Eggy" Hawkins leaves his ability to coach the J.V. basketball team and play with the varsity to Eric Hannibal.

The Class of '49 bequeaths to the Athletic Department a book titled, "How to Spend Money in Six Easy Lessons."

We leave to Professor Barrows a year's supply of tickets to any tonsorial parlor in the country.

To Mr. Stackhouse we leave an Esquire guide on "How to Dress Properly."

William Bishop leaves his golf trophies to Edward Booker and Professor Turpin.

Cecil Goode, Lawrence Perkins, C. C. Johnson, John Starr, and "Boots" Williams leave behind them a decade or more of fighting stuff.

"Garbage Mouth" Davidson leaves his repertoire of words to the Vail Memorial Library in six volumes.

"Moon" Morris leaves his infinite size to Jim Cooke.

Edward Dawley leaves to his beloved Philosophy Club his stuttering and stammering.

T. Milton Lowe leaves his Phillip Morris job to Herbe Foster.

Ed Wilson and Vernon Jones leave their dog in F-2 to their respective ole ladies in case the price of meat should rise again.

Peter Price Cobbs, Jr., leaves his insane book to those who are cracking up due to "shotguns."

Lou Chippey leaves his GI clothes to anyone interested in the Marines.

George Harmon bequeaths his problem, "Why can't I find a wife?" to the sociology department.

Armstead Robinson leaves Lincoln and continues his pursuit of Betty once more up and down the east coast.

Ernest "Scumdaddy" Artis leaves Lincoln to attend barbering school.

To Dr. Toye Davis we leave a schedule of his hygiene classes so he will be there to conduct them next year.

Carl Ligons bequeaths his 180 degree feet to the Smithsonian Institute.

"Tex" Hammond leaves his beautiful baritone voice to "Bill" Bridgeford and returns to Texas to call cows again.

Lonnie Cross leaves his "heaviness" to Howie Thomas.

Waverly "Mop Top" Woodson leaves Lincoln in search of a successful formula for hair restorer.

Sam Goudelock leaves his wrestling ability to Alfred Collins.

"Chico" Wilson leaves Lincoln and tries to gain some weight so he won't be blown away by a strong wind.

Morse "Heals Beals" Carter leaves Lincoln with all the pride and courage his 62 inches can muster.

"Andy" Wertz leaves his mid-weekly excursions home to his wife and son to city boy, James E. Brothers.

Walter Brooks and George Taliaferro leave their baseball gloves to Lincoln's Hall of Fame.

William Philpot and Walter Crocker leave their draft classification as students and immediately become 1A.

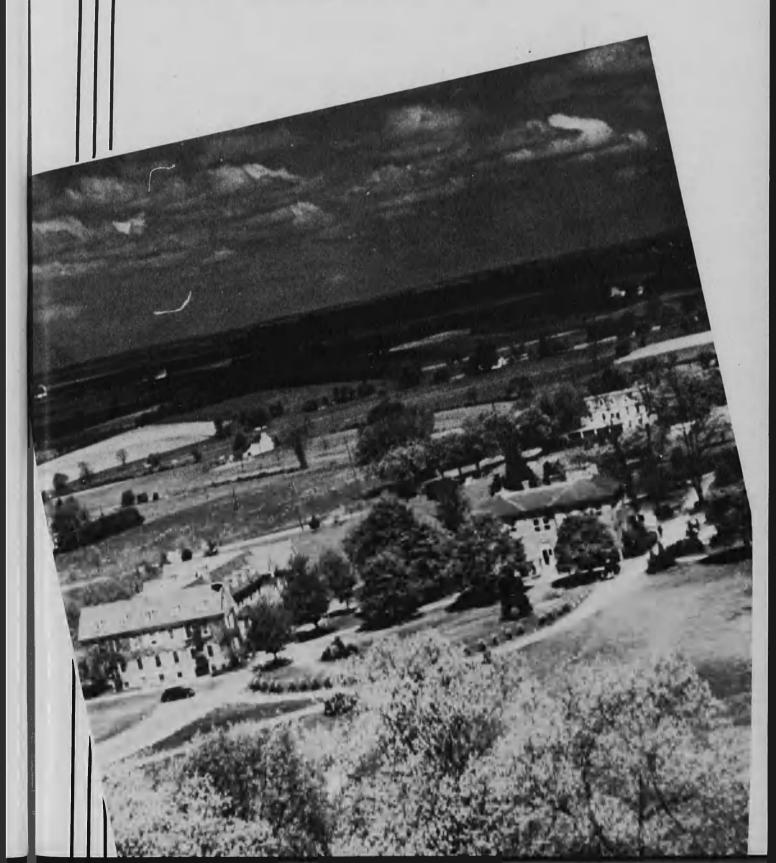

Oscar "Red" Ross leaves his boots, plough, and hat to all future New England farmers.

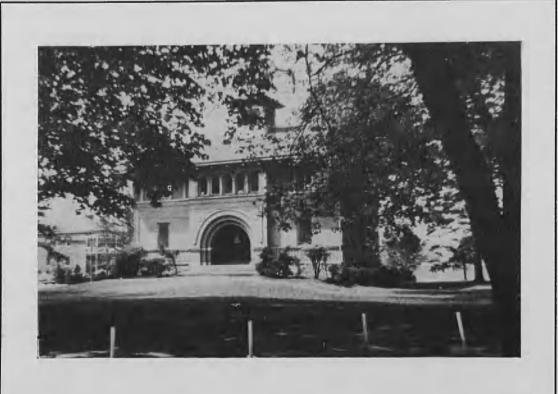

George Carter leaves his abstract mind to the men on Mars—maybe they can understand him.

To you, the Class of "50" we leave all the joys, sorrows and heartbreaks that have plagued us during our undergraduate days and pray that your love of Lincoln will be as great as ours. You are hereby authorized as the sole executor of this our last will and testament. We, the Class of "49" affix our hand and seal.
