Foreword

Lincoln University is a great university and fortunately a dissatisfied one.

Realizing the changing conditions in the world this Lincoln University in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been catapulted, as has the rest of the nation, into the Nucleur Age.

Recent developments in the world such as the emergence of new sovereign states in Africa, events in which Lincoln has played a most significant role, the Crisis in Laos, the Sit-Ins, the election of John F. Kennedy and the threat of megaton bombs have concatneated this state of transition into our minds.

We the Class of '62 are ready to accept the fullest responsibility of citizenship by forming concerted opinion on public policy and by active participation in community affairs.

Lincoln has taught us this--the basic concern and the give and take of life.

We fully realize the enormity of these tasks that lie before us and to shirk them would be unthinkable.

The motto on our founding stone symbolizes our training for leadership and our realization of our past, our present and our future.

To this motto we remain dedicated . . .

"The Night is Far Spent
and
The Day is at Hand."

"Give instruction to a wise man . . .

DEDICATION

In the social, political, religious and educational aspects of life, the 1960's have opened up avenues to various aspirations. As a class cognizant of these avenues and the challenges they present, we are proud of the heritage we have imbibed during our years of study in Lincoln, and are equally proud to dedicate our Yearbook to a man full of aspirations for the future as we are.

Dr. Marvin Wachman was appointed to the Presidency of Lincoln University in July 1961. At forty-five, he represents the youthful spirit of the sixties and the desire to do all he can to enhance the ideals for which Lincoln stands. Take a close look at the man Marvin Wachman. Next take a tour of the various establishments on campus and notice the pace the various renovations are going on. You will be compelled to admit that he is just the right man at the right time and in the right place.

To a man faced with the challenges of an institution growing each day, we the class of 1962 dedicate a future full of many achievements. In one way or the other our aims are identical and so we have no doubt that he will continually be equal to the task, just as we intend to apply our gains in Lincoln for the betterment of the world we are about to face.

To the Class of 1962

The graduates of this fine institution have gone into positions of leadership in many fields, both in the United States and abroad. They have brought recognition to Lincoln University far beyond that which its size would anticipate. There is no doubt that you graduates of the Class of 1962 will take your places in the local, national, and international communities as good citizens and leaders. You are being called upon to involve yourselves in more varied tasks than any previous class at Lincoln University. Not only are there expanded opportunities for graduates of Lincoln, but there is a pressing need on the part of your nation for your services.

This means that you will follow the tradition of Lincoln men who have gone on to positions of service and of eminence in fields such as medicine, the ministry, education, law, business, and government service. This means, too, that you will lead the most interesting, active lives possible. We all wish you the best of luck in finding a rich, full life and a career of service for yourselves and your families.

In some quarters one hears a good deal about how modern society is doomed, that it is not solving its problems, and that its people are rootless and aimless. It is very good to note that the prophets of doom have found little reception in the Class of 1962 whose members have been too busy seeking answers to difficult questions, engaging in important activities, and preparing for the future, to bemoan any hypothetical fate assigned to them.

I deem it a privilege to have known you during the past year and to have engaged in good discussion with many of you. You have contributed to a healthy ferment on the campus, and I trust that you will do the same in your communities and in your nation. You are the first graduating class in my career at Lincoln University. I shall always feel a special attachment to the Class of 1962, and we all hope that you will come back and visit us often.

MARVIN WACHMAN

Our Advisor

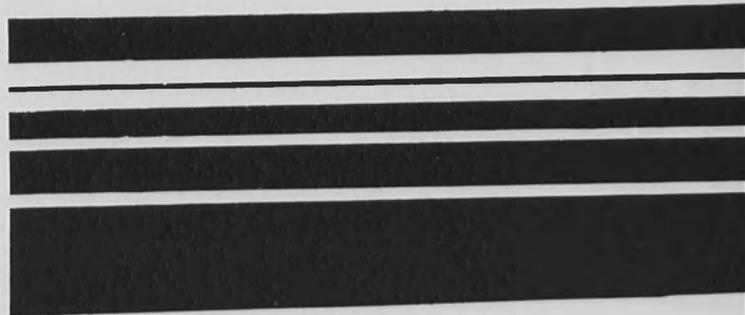

Dr. John A. Marcum, a graduate of Stanford University and former professor of Political Science at Colgate University, comes to Lincoln well qualified to fill the new position of Director of African Affairs. He was a staff associate of the Hoover Institute's Program of Overseas Development and a research scholar in French North Africa. Dr. Marcum has found no difficulty adopting to the unique atmosphere of Lincoln University. He is a hard worker and is always willing to give meaningful advice to inquiring students. Possessed with great energy and a winsome personality, this versatile individual is an embodiment of the new frontier ideas of Lincoln University. Dr. Marcum's frankness and savoir faire earns for him much respect by the student body; especially the Senior class with which he is closely connected.

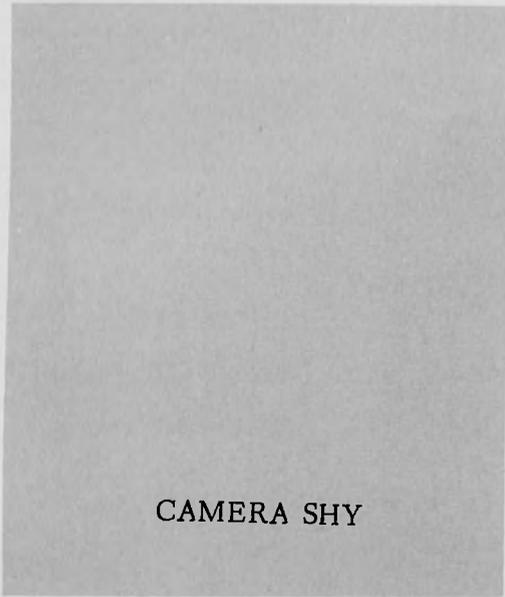

As we leave the portals of these gates, we shall always remember him as friend, counselor, and teacher. In our year of decision he has been our captain guiding our ship safely on its journey to that day when we reach our destination and walk through the Arch of Lincoln University for the last time in our undergraduate life.

Dr. Marcum our gratitude and most sincere thanks.

EDITOR

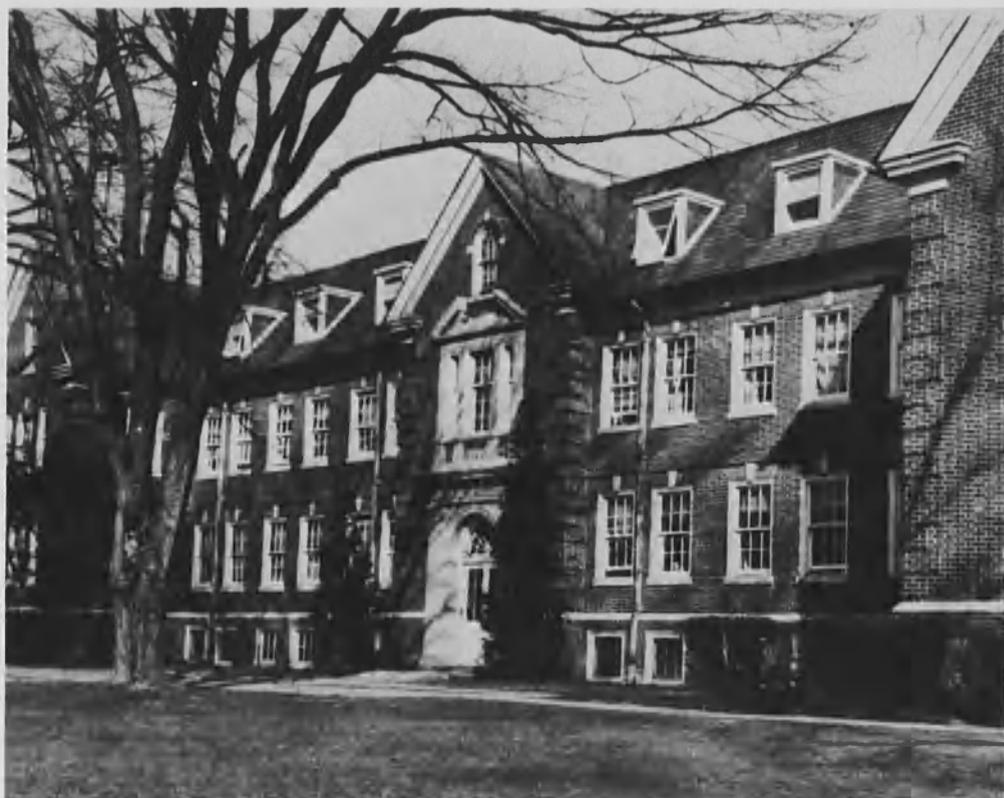

It is my privilege and pleasure to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Senior Class for working so diligently on this year's Lion.

There were times when it appeared that our carefully laid plans were never to reach fulfillment. However, due to the constant and energetic efforts of our Class President, Donald McMeans, Sidney Adams, Donald Green and a host of others, we are able to present a yearbook that we hope you will enjoy.

It is the wish of the Yearbook staff that this book will serve as a portal to the ocean of fond memories that we shared at Dear Lincoln U.

Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity is the first National Greek Letter Fraternity to open its portals to all men. The noble ideals and aims of the Fraternity embrace Manly Deeds, Scholarship, and Love for all Mankind. Alpha men assume the role that is the only justification of the university system -- the role of informed, objective, and articulate leadership. In the past Nu Chapter has made many outstanding contributions to give these ideals, aims, and principles actual practical value. Their sponsoring of many humanitarian affairs both for campus and community has proven that Alpha men are staunch workers and that their ideas and principles are more than just theoretical items.

The prayer, "The House of Alpha," truly expresses the voice of Alpha:

In fact, I am the college of friendship; the university of brotherly love; the school for better making of men.

I AM ALPHA PHI ALPHA.

Kappa Alpha Psi was founded January 5, 1911 at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana. It was first known as Kappa Alpha Nu Fraternity. In 1914 the name was changed to Kappa Alpha Psi. Kappa Alpha Psi was founded by ten prominent men who wanted to create a nationwide fraternity of brotherhood. The leading men who were outstanding in the development of this fraternity were Elder W. Diggs, Buron K. Armstrong and John M. Lee.

The purpose of Kappa Alpha Psi is achievement. Kappa Alpha Psi obtains for all its members the benefits which can be derived from membership in a modern college brotherhood.

Epsilon Chapter was the fifth chapter to be founded. It was begun at Lincoln University with the consent of the Past Grand Polemarch Elder W. Diggs on November 15, 1915.

Phi Beta Sigma was first chartered at Howard University, Washington, D.C. in 1914. Mu Chapter was founded at Lincoln University in May, 1922.

In keeping with its motto "Culture for Service to Humanity," the fraternity promotes many programs of cultural and educational values. Phi Beta Sigma can take pride in having initiated a program of cooperation between the Greek Letter organizations known today as the National Pan-Hellenic Council.

BETA Chapter, of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, was established on Lincoln University's campus in February, 1914, during the first Conclave. Omega has always boasted with pride of her worthy sons at BETA chapter.

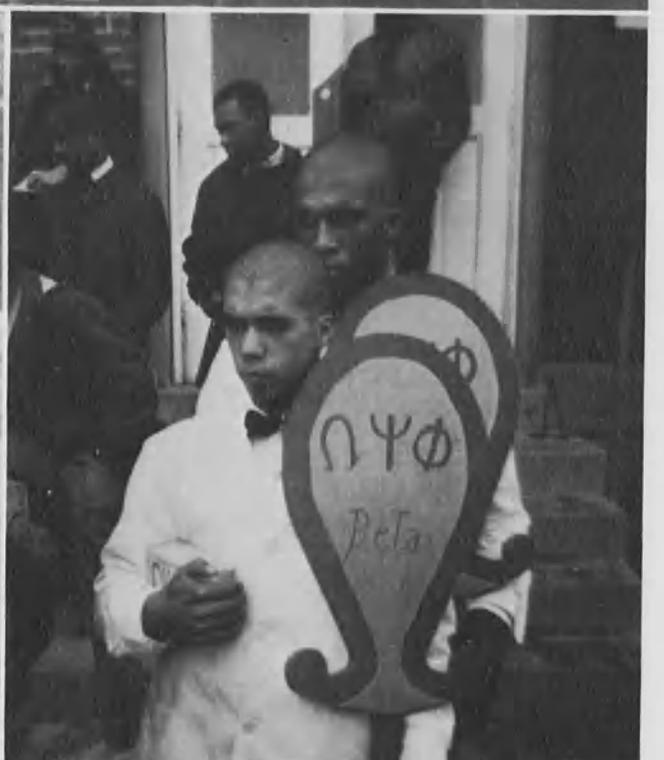

The brothers constantly achieve high scholastic attainment, always being represented on the Dean's List. Omega also holds high standards in sports and other campus activities and organizations, as well.

The graduating brothers of the class of 1962, with great pride, leave to the remaining brothers, and men in the Lampados Club, the glowing lamp of Omega. "Be it yours to hold high," and may the blazing, radiant, light of Omega forever shine upon the campus, as it does within our hearts, in letters of glittering gold.

The Pan-Hellenic Council functions as a correlatory body between the four fraternities and the administration.

The Council does not govern or regulate fraternities, but rather suggests and advises the ethics by which the chapters conduct themselves together as Greeks or apart as separate organizations.

With Lincoln's changing scene, the duties of this group will become more important in keeping fraternal matters in equilibrium.

Student Senate

SEATED: C. Coverdale, D. Closson, C. Ballard, G. Brooks, N. Thompson, J. Douglas. STANDING: V. Bridgewater, D. Wilkerson, H. Judson, H. St. Clair, W. Lawrence.

The Student Senate, one of the most prominent organizations on campus, is set up as a legislative body to represent the students. An analysis of this organization will show that it is very representative of the student body since it contains a cross section of the campus.

Moreover, like other campus organizations, the Student Senate sponsors chapel programs, recitals, and weekends.

Lincolnian Staff

SEATED: E. Hoagland, D. Wheeler, B. Floyd, M. Lawrence. STANDING: C. Johnson, G. Cousins, D. Walker, S. Murray, L. Edmonds, E. Bowser, R. Gittens, H. Brown, J. Anderson.

Into today's hectic existence there is nothing more potent or important than the power of the press. This is well exemplified by the Lincolnian's continual policy of serving as an effective vehicle of student expression; trying to bring about a closer relationship between faculty and students and among the student body itself, endeavoring to stimulate student opinion and interest in campus activities, and striving to provide news of interest to the campus community.

Lion Staff

Sidney S. Adams

Mr. Norman Poe, who was formerly the editor of the yearbook, had to resign his position in order to do his practice teaching. Mr. Sidney S. Adams then accepted the editorship at a time when everything seemed in literal chaos. Mr. Adams found it no easy task to take over where Mr. Poe left off. However his preparation enabled him to establish proper communications and rapport with all the agencies necessary to his work. He met his task head-on and exercised a keen sense of reason in resolving difficulties faced by him.

To Mr. Sidney Adams . . . one who has patiently served single-handedly as editor of the Lion . . . to one who has been an inspiration to others who have watched him labor indefatigably . . . the Graduating Class of 1962 extends its warmest congratulations.

African Students Association

SEATED: N. Ajagunna, C. Edohoh, E. Utuk. STANDING: R. Anyanwu, C. Ekanem, A. Edet, J. Shihundu.

Lincoln University has grown from an institution of higher learning for Negroes to one that extends an invitation for all to enter. The African Students Association is composed mainly of those students from African nations which received their independence in the last two or three years.

International Students Association

SEATED: E. Utuk, M. Hussein, C. Edoho. STANDING: T. Ngaamba, D. Wilkerson, R. Blackston, C. Ekanem, B. Karanjn.

Conscious of the important role former members of the Association are today playing in the over all political, economic and social developments in various parts of the world, the association exists not only as a source of inspiration to international students and center reflection on what duties they owe to their mother lands, but also to embrace Lincoln University's New Program of "Not existing to serve the Negro population alone, but to provide a living laboratory of cooperation and understanding through Education and Brotherhood." The organization has now fulfilled this need, but has extended its functions to include a program which enhances the community both in various social and cultural aspects.

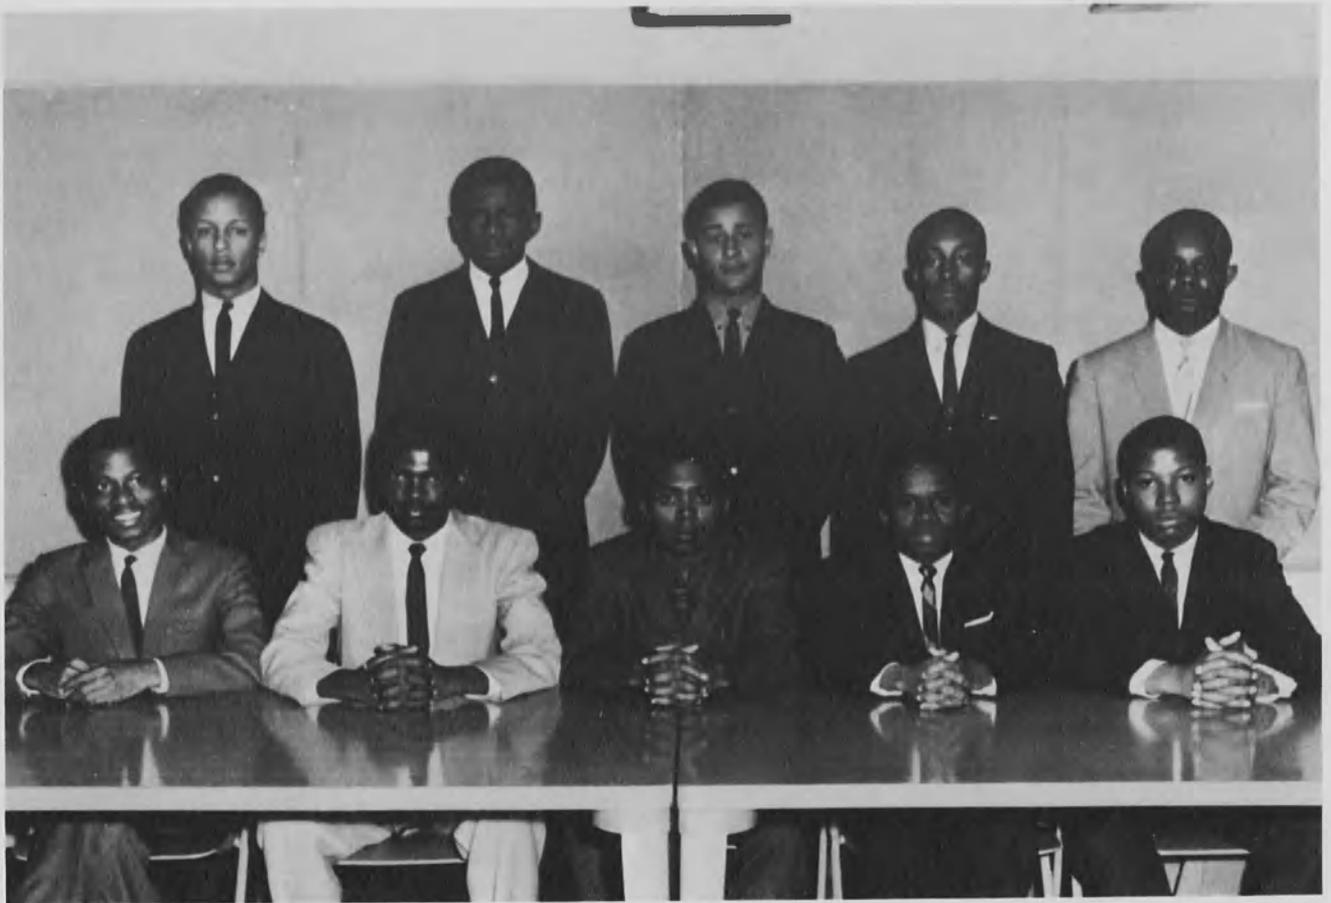

Philosophy Club

SEATED: R. Randolph, J. Thompson, J. Alexander. STANDING: L. Jackson, B. Floyd, G. Reese.

Under the guidance of Mr. Maxwell Primack the Philosophy Club has presented to the students of Lincoln University a well balanced program of guest speakers and panel groups. This was done in an attempt to stimulate further interest in philosophy and psychology. The club further strives to serve as an outlet for creative thought.

Political Science Club

SEATED: N. Ajagunna, W. Lawrence, E. Utuk, C. Dickerson. STANDING: J. Anderson, R. Blackston, H. St. Clair, J. Thompson and C. Edoho.

The Political Science Club has as its objective; to promote a better understanding of various political problems and to give the students of the field a chance to gain a more extensive knowledge of the field. In order to bring this about the club sponsors panel discussions and lectures by prominent speakers.

Pre Law Club

SEATED: C. Brown, R. Blackston, W. Wallace. STANDING: J. Dabney and W. Adams.

The Pre Law Club organized this year, is designed to give students who are interested in law as a career a picture of its many aspects. It also endeavors to assist these students in planning their courses, selecting reading material and providing a basic understanding of various opportunities available to them.

Ravenell. 3rd ROW: R. Harrison, C. Madison, D. Closson, E. Hoagland, M. Frank, G. Alexander. 4th ROW: W. Sadler, W. Gibbons, J. Dabney, and H. Young.

The Lincoln University Glee Club sings an annual program preceding the Christmas holidays, as well as concerts in the Spring and at Commencement.

The Glee Club is one of three choral groups on the campus and is nearing its forty-first year of continuing organization.

It primarily functions as the musical ambassador for the University at all major engagements.

Lincoln University Ensemble

The principle duty of the University Ensemble is to furnish music for the Sunday Chapel Services. The Ensemble also accepts off-campus engagements and sings as varied a program as the Glee Club.

Chess Club

The members of the Chess Club meet informally each week to play and analyze their game. Under the guidance of Dr. Benjamin Schwartz, this organization, though one of the most recently organized, is quite active and shows promise of becoming one of the campus' largest clubs.

English Club

SEATED: D. Lambright, C. Brown, P. Reed, S. Lopez.

Though just organized this past fall, the English Club under the guidance of Mr. James LaSala is one of the most rapidly growing campus organizations. Meetings addressed to a wide variety of topics of interest to students and faculty in every field of specialization are held alternate Wednesdays.

Varsity Club

SEATED: V. Bridgewater, H. Judson, Arthur Terry. STANDING: R. Boyd, J. Anderson, D. Walker, B. Floyd, G. Reese.

The Varsity Club is an honorary organization of athletes who have been awarded their varsity letter. In conjunction with the Homecoming Committee, the club has established itself as a definite part of the campus community. Since its beginning this organization has had the responsibility of arranging the annual homecoming celebration and the selection of Miss Homecoming.

LECTURES

And

RECITALS

Philadelphia Art Museum

Shirley Verret-Carter

Miss Carter, a mezzo-soprano appeared in a recital at Lincoln University, on March 28, 1962. A native of New Orleans, Miss Carter was educated in Los Angeles, and completed her studies at the Julliard School of Music. She is the recipient of the John Charles Thomas Scholarship, the Marion Anderson Award, the Berkshire Music Festival Opera Scholarship, and many others. Future engagements include the Hollywood Bowl, Lewisohn Stadium, Los Angeles Music Festival, and the Festival of Two Worlds, in Spoleto, Italy.

Madeline Stevenson

Miss Stevens, soloist with the American Society of Ancient Instruments, presented a concert of Renaissance and Baroque Music in the Memorial Chapel, December 8, 1962. Highlights of the concert played on instruments of the viol family and the harpsichord with Miss Stevens, Soprano.

Duo - Lee - Makanowitzky

On February 28, 1962, the Duo Lee-Makanowitzky appeared in concert at Lincoln University. Although new to American audiences, the Duo is well known in Europe for the perfection of its ensemble and its stylistic brilliance.

Noel Lee, pianist, a native of China, as a composer received the American Academy of Arts and Letters Award. He has been heard in practically all major European music centers.

The violinist Paul Makanowitzky, is a native of Stockholm. He made his debut in Paris at the age of 12, and has performed with leading orchestras in the United States and Europe.

CLAUDE FRANK

On October 2, Mr. Frank opened the 1961-62 Lectures and Recital season with an all Beethoven program. One of the last pupils of Arthur Schnabel, Mr. Frank appeared as soloist last year under such great conductors as Bernstein, Steinburg and Munch, and is considered by Rudolf Serkin to be one of the most brilliant musicians of his generation.

Theodore Ullmann

Mr. Ullmann appeared in recital at Lincoln University on April 3, 1962. A former faculty member of Biarritz American University in France, Mr. Ullmann also taught at the Julliard School of Music in New York City. He has been the recipient of a number of competitive awards, including the MacDowell Club Young Artists Contest and the Bamberger Competition. In addition to the Julliard School he has attended the Paris Conservatoire.

Attorney Franklin H. Williams

Attorney Williams special assistant to the director of the Peace Corps and advisor on United Nations Affairs, was the assembly speaker on November 20, 1961. He spoke of tremendous opportunities now unfolding for the young Negro graduate, and urged each student to prepare himself to meet the challenge of any opportunity which may come his way.

Williams was formerly special NAACP counsel, West Coast NAACP secretary and assistant special attorney general of California.

Clarence Mitchell

Mr. Mitchell, a Lincoln graduate of the class of 1932, spoke in a university assembly on February 12, 1962. He has had a distinguished career in government service with the War Manpower Commission, War Production Board, and the Office of Production Management. He is a member of the Washington Afro Honor Roll and the Chicago Defender Honor Roll. Mr. Mitchell has received the Russwurm Award by the National Newspaper Publishers Association. He is now Director of the Washington Bureau of the N. A. A. C. P.

Dr. Robinson described his creative enterprise "Operations Crossroads-Africa," to students, faculty and friends at a University Assembly on October 11, 1961.

Alirio Diaz

Mr. Diaz is a classic guitarist, who is a native of Venezuela. He is a pupil and teaching associate of the great Andres Segouï, Spanish Master, who established the Contemporary School of Classic Guitarists.

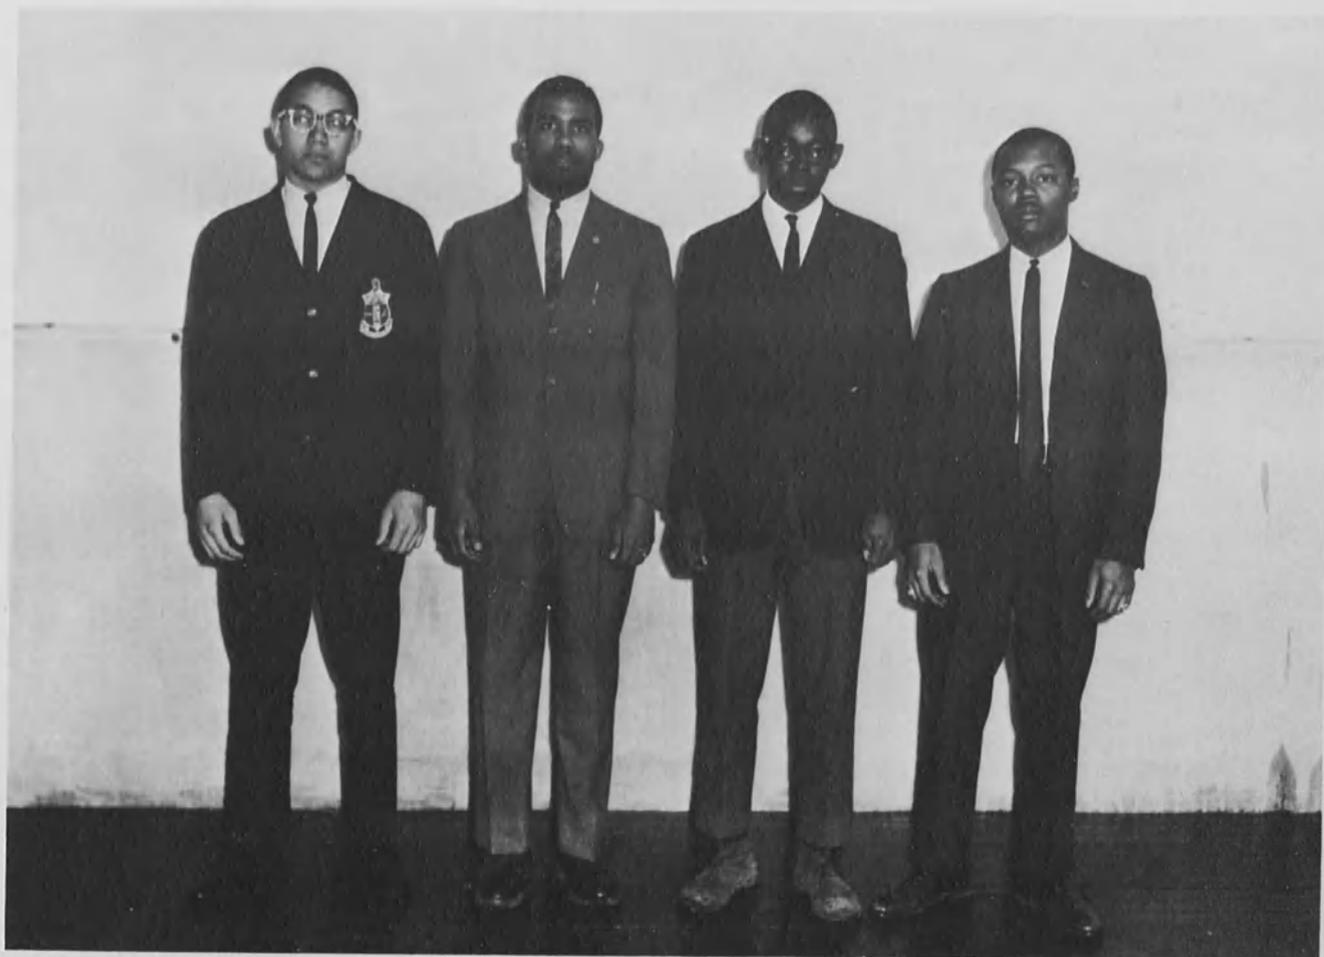

Soccer

SEATED: J. Funna, A. Moran, R. Dickerson, R. Fontain, E. Azikiwe, V. Uffen, N. Agborh, W. Gibbons, J. Coates and A. Ige. STANDING: Coach Grumbein, R. Reyburn, C. Fredricks, D. Virgil, G. Osakwe, D. White, W. Elba, G. Sherman and D. Halsey.

A strong Lincoln eleven that finished the season with five victories and three losses, was developed by Coach "Dutch" Grumbein an All-American soccer player as a student at West Chester State College. High scorer again this year was Ernie Azikiwe with Dave Virgil, another returning letterman, not far behind. Carl Frederick and Jim Funna also gave teeth to the Lion.

Cross Country

Dave Walker was joined by Allen Barnes, who ran his first season after two years of varsity football. Barnes, a native of Reading, Pa., was a consistent winner for Lincoln. Howard Robinson, rejoined the squad after missing last season, and showed steady improvement. Other members of the team were newcomers unaccustomed to the four and five mile courses of college running.

Track

1st ROW: W. Jefferson, J. Cowan, D. Foster, J. Montgomery, E. Burden. 2nd ROW: A. Barnes, O. Harris, C. Coverdale, D. Closson and O. Walls.

Basketball

1st ROW: D. Waters, E. Hedge, J. Jackson, M. Lawrence, co-captain, and D. Foster. 2nd ROW: G. Holliday, C. Demps, C. Williams, R. Randolph, co-captain, I. Thompson and A. Gray.

Within its own league the Lincoln University basketball team under coach Bob Smith performed brilliantly with seven consecutive victories and only one defeat by a narrow margin at the hands of Rutgers of South Jersey. In any man's league, the Lions were a fast, well balanced five under Captain Robert (Randy) Randolph, who was the leading rebounder with 220 points and stood second only to the brilliant freshman, Joe Jackson, of Long Island City, N.Y., in the number of points scored during the season.

Wrestling

SEATED: B. Floyd, E. Addison, A. Upperman, M. Moorehead, R. Esannason, W. Moorehead and J. Woods.
STANDING: R. Strickland, G. McCray, R. Stancil, J. Montgomery, G. Michelson, D. Simpson, T. Francis, H. Judson and A. Ashton.

Coach Robert Gardner's matmen ended a season marred at the outset by the loss of co-captain, Doug Simpson, Lincoln's CIAA champion wrestler in the 167 pound class, due to injuries. The team was further by the loss of Rueben Washington and George Reese, a 147-pound sophomore who was a CIAA champion and the most outstanding wrestler of the tournament last year.

The season was relieved, however, by the performance of four freshmen Reuben Washington; Reginald Stancil, in the 157 pound class; and Arthur Upperman and Egbert Addison, both in the 130-pound class.
