Today: Mid-Atlantic Neuroscience Diversity Scholars Program Information Session

The Mid-Atlantic Neuroscience Diversity Scholars (MiNDS) program is a two-year, paid research program that provides students with research placements over the summer and during the academic year. This partnership between Temple University, Lincoln University and University of Maryland College Park aims to bolster the number of underrepresented minority (URM) students within the neuroscience academic pipeline and build a foundation for URM students to succeed in graduate school and beyond. Join us today at 5:30 pm in NSC Room 111.
