

Lincoln University
LEARN. LIBERATE. LEAD.

2021- 2022 Lincoln University Man of the Year Application

Man of the Year Award

Lincoln University Office of Male Achievement

The Office of Male Achievement under the Division of Student Success at Lincoln University is opening nominations for the 2021-2022 Man of the Year Award. This special honor will be given to a current freshman, sophomore, junior and senior who has defined what it means to be a Lincoln University man. Although Lincoln University Man of the Year is an award, it also serves as a working position throughout the school year.

Our Definition of a Lincoln Man: A Lincoln Man is one who is respectful, honest, reliable, scholarly, confident, resourceful, professional, service-oriented, self-motivated, can motivate others, and prideful of Lincoln University.

Required Qualifications: Candidates who will be considered must be in good academic, financial, and judicial standing with Lincoln University.

Preferred Qualifications: Candidates that will stand out to the selection committee will:

- Have participated in volunteering initiatives
- Have at least a 3.0 grade point average
- Be involved with various organizations
- Have provided strong details in their application

Please note you may apply as long as you meet the required qualifications

Application Logistics:

1. Applications must be typed
2. Previous Lincoln Man of the Year Award recipients may reapply for the award.
3. Letter of recommendations to supplement your application are accepted but not required for consideration. There is no minimum or maximum amount for the number or length of letter of recommendations you may submit. Letters of recommendation can be from Lincoln University employees as well as people outside of Lincoln University.
4. Should you have any questions, please email at Jharris@lincoln.edu

Submitting your Application:

1. Applications and all supporting materials are due Friday April 9, 2021 by 11:59 p.m. EST
2. Please email the completed application to Jharris@lincoln.edu
3. The subject line for the email should be "Nominee's First & Last Name Man of the Year Application". For example "John Doe Man of the Year Application."
4. Regarding letter of recommendations, the recommender can email Jharris@lincoln.edu directly with the attached letter or the student applicant can submit the letter of recommendation along with their application. No letters of recommendation will be accepted after the deadline.

Lincoln University Man of the Year Award Application

Part I: Contact Information

Name:

Student ID Number:

Cell Number:

Email:

Classification:

Major:

Minor:

Part II: Campus Contributions

1. Why would you be a good recipient of the Lincoln University Man of the Year Award? What separates you from other candidates? How will the Man of the Year position benefit you?

Response:

2. How would the Lincoln University community describe you?

Response:

3. How would you say you have grown since being at Lincoln University?

Response:

4. Please list your extracurricular involvement (include position and name of organization/department as well as any organizations/jobs outside of Lincoln University)

Response:

5. Please list your accomplishments (i.e. awards, honors, promotions, certifications, etc.)

Response:

Part III: Scenarios & Planning

Directions: Please respond to the following scenarios and how you would use your title as Man of the Year to improve our campus. There is no word limit with your responses.

1. Enrollment: Lincoln University has seen a recent decline in male enrollment. How would you use your position as Man of the Year to help prospective high school students and potential transfer students from other universities to consider enrolling at Lincoln University?

Response:

2. Campus Involvement: How would you use your position as Man of the Year to help current male students get more involved in joining campus clubs/organizations as well as attending campus events?

Response:

3. Mental Health: Due to COVID-19 and the pressures that come with college, we have seen a rise in mental health concerns. How would you use your position as Man of the Year to provide support to Lincoln University males who are battling anxiety, depression, and other mental health challenges?

Response:

4. Academics: How would you use your position as Man of the Year to help our Lincoln University men achieve their academic goals?

Response:

5. Event Planning: Based on your experiences of being a Lincoln University man, develop one event that you feel our males would truly benefit from and why. Please provide a detailed outline of how that event would look and what resources you would need to host that event. Also, please share your marketing plan on how you would convince Lincoln University males to attend your event. You are also welcome to partner with any campus department/organization or an off campus organization or company on your event. You have an unlimited budget so dream big!

Response:

Thank you for submitting a Man of the Year Application. We wish the nominee the best of the luck in the process.